Elemental: The New Geography of Climate Change and How We Survive it Arthur Snell, 2026-03-12 An extraordinary mastery of geopolitics combining years on the ground in the most challenging places a raw instinct for politics and a deep ethical concern for the world in the face of climate catastrophe A masterpiece RORY STEWART A powerful passionate and utterly convincing book LORD PETER RICKETTS From the water stressed mountains of the Arabian Peninsula to the wildfires raging through America's most populated regions the climate crisis is already affecting the lives of millions As natural disasters and increased scarcity shake the established world order to its core Elemental reveals an alternative future is still possible Within this century the new era of extreme weather will threaten India's ability to grow rice prevent southern Europe's farms from providing the continent with fresh produce and make building in Saudi Arabia near impossible While such unprecedented challenges inevitably drive conflict they will also encourage innovation upending economies and global power structures to create opportunities for new players and pioneering ways of living In this groundbreaking study Arthur Snell visits rapidly changing societies to show how we can live on a warming planet He presents a vision in which Africa powers Europe with solar energy where autocratic oil states are no more and new shipping routes across the melting Arctic bring Asia Europe and North America closer than ever before In Russia huge areas of highly fertile land will be exposed by the melting ice for whoever can seize it while China's stranglehold on rare minerals looks set to make it the world's leading superpower Through four sections Earth Air Fire and Water Elemental blends reportage with analysis and interviews with key experts policymakers and politicians to reveal the turbulent future we face and the choices we need to make to avert disaster

Cities Ian Douglas, 2013-05-30 Cities are amongst our greatest creations Yet at the start of the twenty first century there is increasing concern over their unchecked expansion and the detrimental effect this is having on the planet as induced climate change and ever increasing demands upon the world's resources take effect How can we make the world's cities more sustainable Ian Douglas tells the story of cities why they exist how they have evolved the problems they have encountered and those they will face as our century progresses Global in geographical coverage and ranging from the cities of the classical world to the megacities of today it is the first comprehensive environmental history of cities

Saving More Than Seeds Catherine Phillips, 2016-04-01 Saving More Than Seeds advances understandings of seed people relations with particular focus on seed saving The practice of reusing and exchanging seeds provides foundation for food production and allows humans and seed to adapt together in dynamic socio-natural conditions But the practice and its practitioners are easily taken for granted even as they are threatened by neoliberalisation Combining original ethnographic research with investigation of an evolving corporate seed order this book reveals seed saving not only as it occurs in fields and gardens but also as it associates with genbanking genetic engineering intellectual property rights and agrifood regulations Drawing on diverse social sciences literatures Phillips illustrates ongoing practices of thinking feeling and acting with seeds raising questions about what seed people relations should accomplish and how different ways of relating might be pursued to change collective futures Towards Better Work A. Rossi,A. Cullen,Claude Berube,2012-06-12 This book examines the evolution function problems and prospects of private security companies in the maritime sector The private security industry continues to evolve after its renaissance over the past few decades first in Africa and later in Iraq and Afghanistan Despite this little academic work has been done to date on the role of private security in the maritime environment This lacuna has become more pronounced as the threat of piracy terrorism and other acts of maritime political violence have caused littoral states and commercial entities alike to consider the use of private security to mitigate risks Maritime Private Security is an edited volume specifically dedicated to combating the absence of academic research in this area The discussion of this multi faceted subject is organised into four key parts Part I The Historical and Contemporary Market in Maritime Private Security Services Part II The Emergence of Private Anti Piracy Escorts in the Commercial Sector Part III The Privatization of Coast Guard Services Part IV Private Security Responses to Maritime Terrorism This book will be of much interest to students of naval policy and maritime security private security companies piracy and terrorism international law and IR in general Property and Human Rights in a Global Context Ting

Xu,Jean Allain,2016-03-24 Property as a human rights concern is manifested through its incorporation in international instruments and as a subject of the law through property related cases considered by international human rights organs Yet for the most part the relationship between property and human rights has been discussed in rather superficial terms lacking a clear substantive connection or common language That said the currents of globalisation have witnessed a new era of interrelation between these two areas of the law including the emergence of international intellectual property law and the recognition of indigenous claims which in fundamental ways speak to an engagement with human rights law This collection starts the conversation between human rights lawyers and property lawyers and explores analytical approaches to the increasing relationship between property and human rights in a global context The chapters engage with key theoretical and policy debates and range across three main themes The re evaluation of the public private divide in the law the tensions between the market and social justice in development and the balance between the rights of individuals and those of communities The chapters adopt a global comparative perspective and engage in case studies from countries including India Philippines Brazil the United States the United Kingdom and includes various regions of Africa and Europe

The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Human Settlements Programme,2013 Nairobi UN Habitat c2014 9789211325980 The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications,2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change
