An Interdisciplinary Perspective Giulio Arcangeli, Gabriele Giorgi, Nicola Mucci, Jean-Luc Bernaud, Annamaria Di Fabio, 2019-03-07 The labor market is evolving very rapidly in recent years in Europe and worldwide The fast and deep changes brought a brand new context of challenges and occupational risks to the attention of stakeholders The current global financial crisis has increased the economic pressures on companies and they in turn have intensified the effects on employees particularly in terms of new competition contexts and a lot of stress and mental health issues Concurrently social political and environmental problems generate under employment over qualification over education low wages for skilled workers and unmet demand for education Consequently both high skilled and low skilled immigrant workers are increasing In addition workplaces are continually changing in step with the introduction of new technologies materials and work processes together with the changes in the labor market the new forms of employment and the new work organizations These changes lead to new opportunities for employees and employers but also to new risks or re actualization of old organizational risks According to the EU OSHA the key points that describe the evolution that is currently ongoing in the world of work are globalization the technical innovation and the aging population On one hand some older potential risks are reappearing in organizations intensive fear and worries organizational anxiety boredom physical violence alienation segregation loneliness and isolation On the other hand re emerging perceived organizational features seem vital for organizations and more important today than ever Central constructs in the study of organizational behavior and organizational health such as perceived organizational support commitment in organizational context socialization processes change capacity of organizations perceived organizational justice ergonomics and motivation nowadays seem increasingly important and renewed

Journal of Social Sciences ,2006-07 The Grasp That Reaches beyond the Grave

Venetria K. Patton,2013-06-20 The Grasp That Reaches beyond the Grave investigates the treatment of the ancestor figure in Toni Cade Bambara s The Salt Eaters Paule Marshall s Praisesong for the Widow Phyllis Alesia Perry s Stigmata and A Sunday in June Toni Morrison s Beloved Tananarive Due s The Between and Julie Dash s film Daughters of the Dust in order to understand how they draw on African cosmology and the interrelationship of ancestors elders and children to promote healing within the African American community Venetria K Patton suggests that the experience of slavery with its concomitant view of black women as natally dead has impacted African American women writers emphasis on elders and ancestors as they seek means to counteract notions of black women as somehow disconnected from the progeny of their wombs This misperception is in part addressed via a rich kinship system which includes the living and the dead Patton notes an uncanny connection between depictions of elder ancestor and child figures in these texts and Kongo cosmology These references suggest that these works are examples of Africanisms or African retentions which continue to impact African American culture

Inside the Animal Mind George Page,2001-08-02 In the bestselling tradition of When Elephants Weep and Dogs Don t Lie About Love Inside the Animal Mind is a groundbreaking exploration of the nature and depth of animal intelligence While in the past scientists have refused to acknowledge that animals have anything like human intelligence a growing body of research reveals otherwise We ve discovered ants that use leaves as tools to cross bodies of water woodpecker finches that hold twigs in their beaks to dig for grubs and bonobo apes that can use sticks to knock down fruit or pole vault over water Not only do animals use tools some also display an ability to learn and problem solve Based on the latest scientific and anecdotal evidence culled from animal experts in the labs and the field Inside the Animal Mind is an engrossing look at animal intelligence cognitive ability problem solving and emotion George Page originator and host of the long running PBS series Nature offers us an informed entertaining and humanistic investigation of the minds of predators and scavengers birds and primates rodents and other species Illustrated with twenty four black and white photographs the book is the companion to the three part hour long show of the same name hosted by Page
