

Martin Luther King Jr.

Martin Luther King Jr. was born on January 15, 1929, in Atlanta, Georgia. He became one of the most important leaders in the American civil rights movement, fighting for equality for African Americans. King is best known for his peaceful approach to protesting racial segregation and discrimination.

In 1955, King led the Montgomery Bus Boycott, a protest against the segregation of buses in Montgomery, Alabama. His efforts were successful and showed that peaceful protests could create change. In 1963, King delivered his famous "I Have a Dream" speech during the March on Washington, where he called for an end to racism and equality for all people. King's leadership led to significant changes, including the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965. He believed in nonviolent resistance, inspired by Mahatma Gandhi, and fought for justice through peaceful means.

King received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964 for fighting injustice.

Tragically, he was assassinated on April 4, 1968, but remains a symbol of hope, courage, and equality's struggle.

Archetypes of Wisdom Douglas J. Soccio, 1995 Based on the conviction that philosophy matters and that people respond to the language of wisdom, this text returns to the essence of the philosophical impulse: the search for wisdom. With this powerful interpreting theme, a chronological sequence, and a storytelling approach, this book begins where today's students are: in terms of interests, backgrounds, and abilities, and draws them into the world of philosophy. Whenever possible, topics and passages are selected that touch on fundamental concerns of the human condition.
