Teaching and Learning in the New Latino Diaspora Edmund T. Hamann, Socorro G. Herrera, Enrique G. Murillo, Stanton Wortham, 2024-11-22 This volume does more than document an educational dynamic that impacts Latino populations across the United States it also connects educational challenges to concrete plans for how those problems can be resolved Both experienced and new scholars describe strategies and outline policies to support academic success affirm identity and belonging and show how educational institutions can be transformed to better serve Latino constituencies in a post-pandemic and post-Trump world Examples from elementary education to higher education supply familiar points of entry but also challenge readers to explore scenarios and strategies that they have not previously considered Each chapter begins with empirical documentation of an educational problem involving Latino populations where their presence is relatively new and goes on to outline how that problem can be resolved The text includes depictions of thoughtful parent teacher partnerships what authentically welcoming college campuses might look like how high school literature classes could include more Latino authors and much more Book Features Includes detailed examples of practice to assist teachers and school leaders in restructuring their classrooms and programs to better serve Latino students Describes settings and scenarios from across the United States that will be familiar to those teaching leading or preparing to do so Focuses on the new diaspora as distinct from states with traditionally large Latino populations Argues that lagging educational outcomes are not inevitable and that inclusion engagement and success are possible and worth striving for Contributors include Vanessa Anthony Stevens Scott Beck Lisa Dorner Amanda Morales Sophia Rodriguez and Jessica Sierk The Field Guide to Teaching Richard J.
