My Educational Autobiography

I remember my parents recently telling me all these stories about how they never got the chance to go to school and have a good education. Both of them have somewhat similar stories that they have shared with me. Both of my parents came from very poor, but large families and had grown up in very small villages in Vietnam. They both had responsibilities of working to provide food and care for their siblings since they were both one of the oldest in the family. My mom explained how her parents had to go out to sea and fish daily to make only a few cents in U.S. currency, and how she literally had to care for her brothers as a mother would at the age of only nine. It was only until she and her family had moved to the United States when she was about the age of fifteen years. Then and there, she was finally given the opportunity to go to school, but only for a little while due to having financial issues within the family, which caused her to drop out and work full time. My dad actually never got the opportunity to get an education because his family simply just couldn't afford to send anyone in his family to school, and by the time he had moved to the U.S., it was already considered to be too late. He ended up having to work several jobs just to support himself because he had came here with nothing.

Due to their experience and lack of opportunity to good or decent education, growing up, my parents always made sure I had activities to do that would help me speak, read, or write in order to learn the English language. They provided me with everything I needed because they wanted to make sure I was given a better life and childhood than them. When it came to school
