Low Carbon Cities Steffen Lehmann,2014-09-15 Low Carbon Cities is a book for practitioners students and scholars in architecture urban planning and design It features essays on ecologically sustainable cities by leading exponents of urban sustainability case studies of the new directions low carbon cities might take and investigations of how we can mitigate urban heat stress in our cities microclimates The book explores the underlying dimensions of how existing cities can be transformed into low carbon urban systems and describes the design of low carbon cities in theory and practice It considers the connections between low carbon cities and sustainable design social and individual values public space housing affordability public transport and urban microclimates Given the rapid urbanisation underway globally and the need for all our cities to operate more sustainably we need to think about how spatial planning and design can help transform urban systems to create low carbon cities and this book provides key insights

Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals. 2d Ed., Rev. and Enl Avery Library,1997 Azure ,2005 Eco-Homes Doctor Jenny Pickerill,2016-01-15 It is widely understood that good affordable eco housing needs to be at the heart of any attempt to mitigate or adapt to climate change This is the first book to comprehensively explore eco housing from a geographical social and political perspective It starts from the premise that we already know how to build good eco houses and we already have the technology to retrofit existing housing Despite this relatively few eco houses are being built Featuring over thirty case studies of eco housing in Britain Spain Thailand Argentina and the United States Eco Homes examines the ways in which radical changes to our houses such as making them more temporary using natural materials or relying on manual heating and ventilation systems require changes in how we live As such it argues it is not lack of technology or political will that is holding us back from responding to climate change but deep rooted cultural and social understandings of our way of life and what we expect our houses to do for us Book Reviews ,1901 Landscape Architecture ,2001-07 Sustainable Futures in the Built Environment to 2050 Tim Dixon,John Connaughton,Stuart Green,2018-01-09 Brings together leading thinking on issues of new professional practice and on the future of a sustainable built environment This book focuses on both construction and development issues and examines how we can transition to a sustainable future by the year 2050 bringing together leading research and practice at building neighbourhood and city levels It deftly analyses how emerging socio economic technological and environmental trends will influence the built environment of the future The book covers a broad spectrum of interests across the scales of buildings communities and cities including how professional practice will need to adapt to these trends The broader context is provided by an analysis of emergent business models and the changing requirements for expert advice from clients Sustainable Futures in the Built Environment to 2050 A Foresight Approach to Construction and Development features chapters covering data and trends including historical data and UK and international case studies policies and practice related to the field current state of scientific understanding key challenges key technological advances including disruptive and systemic technological innovations change issues and critical uncertainties and future visions It provides A strong conceptual framework based on a Foresight approach Discussion of the key data and trends that underpin each chapter Coverage of both construction and property development Specially commissioned chapters by academics and practitioners A synthesis of the main findings in the book and key insights for the future to 2050 Sustainable Futures in the Built Environment to 2050 A Foresight Approach to Construction and Development is an important book for postgraduate students and researchers construction real estate and property development specialists engineers planners architects foresight and futures studies specialists and anyone involved in sustainable buildings The Literary Digest International Book Review Clifford Smyth,1924 British Books ,1918 The Virginia Quarterly Review ,1929 Women's Creativity since the Modern Movement (1918-2018) Helena Seražin,Emilia Maria Garda,Caterina Franchini,2018-06-13 Extensive work is a result of four year research within the international project Women s Creativity since the Modern Movement and brings new insights into women in architecture construction design urban planning and landscape architecture in Europe and in the rest of the world It is divided into eight chapters that combine 116 articles on topics A Women s education and training National and international mappings B Women s legacy and heritage Protection
