Last year, a group of young medical students volunteered to work in a rural village where access to healthcare was almost nonexistent. They organized free check-ups and provided medication to residents. However, many villagers refused the help, claiming that traditional medicine was more effective. Despite their resistance, the students continued their outreach, visiting schools and homes to educate the villagers on personal hygiene and disease prevention.

One of the students, Tunde, discovered a young boy suffering from a severe infection. His parents had tried treating him with herbs, which worsened the situation. Tunde convinced them to take the boy to a hospital in the city, where he eventually recovered. This incident encouraged some villagers to begin trusting modern healthcare practices.

- (a) Why did the villagers reject the medical students' help?
- (b) What steps did the students take to educate the villagers?
- (c) Describe the case that changed some villagers' minds.
- (d) What lessons can be learned from this passage?
