The industry's most widely used fracture design and analysis software

FRACPRO[®] fracture design and analysis software improves well performance by providing the insight required to design successful stimulation programs.

A powerful tool for fracture optimization

FRACPRO software can effectively model any type of pressure stimulation job, including limited entry wells, multiple perforated intervals and horizontal well fracturing.

Propped fracs

The unique software allows understanding of proppant placement, conductivity improvements and fracture dimensions, and incorporates the effects of proppant damage due to crushing, embedment, stress cycling, and non-Darcy and multiphase flow.

Horizontal wells

FRACPRO software can simulate single and multiple treatment horizontal wells, allowing creation of multiple pump schedules and reservoirs in a single file.

Foam fracs

Energized systems can be simulated in FRACPRO software. The software calculates foam quality at the surface and downhole along with gas and liquid volumes required.

Acid fracs

FRACPRO software can model acid injections using acid reaction rates, thermal modeling and a fluid library containing common acids to determine etched fracture length and width.

Frac packs

The client can choose from three different leakoff models and back stress to effectively match tip screenout behavior.

Matrix acid

With a look and feel similar to the FRACPRO software, STIMPRO[™] matrix acidizing analysis software is a stand-alone program for matrix acid injection below fracture pressure. It is an effective tool to evaluate worm holing and skin reduction.

3D Reservoir Viewer shows fracture profiles along wellbore and dipping reservoir layers.
