2. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow.

Mental health is a state of mental, emotional, psychological and social wellbeing. It is pivotal to personal, community and socio economic development. Continued exposure to unfavorable socio-economic, geopolitical and environmental circumstances, poverty, inequality, violence, discrimination and exclusion increase the risk of mental health issues in people. Genetics also plays a crucial role in increasing the risk of having mental disorders. In contemporary times, harsh parenting, relationship discords, bullying, academic and career stress, pandemics and disease outbreaks, humanitarian emergencies, climate crisis, forced displacement and substance abuse significantly contribute to precipitate mental health issues in people. Talking about mental health is considered to be a stigma, preventing people to seek timely help from professionals like clinical psychologists and psychiatrists. The scenario of mental health issues in J&K is alarming. Natural disasters such as earthquakes, floods and pandemics like Covid-19 have increased the risk of mental health issues in people in J&K.
