English Exam Papers Grade 12 2012:

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy. The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages. Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools. The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully. The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience.

How to Read Texts Neil McCaw, 2013-09-26 Now in its second edition How to Read Texts introduces students to key critical approaches to literary texts and offers a practical introduction for students developing their own critical and close reading skills. Written in a lively jargon free style it explains critical concepts, approaches and ideas including Debates around critical theory, The role of history and context, The links between creativity and criticism, The relationship between author, reader and text. The new edition now includes guidance on analysing a range of multi media texts including film and online media as well as the purely literary. In addition to new practical examples, readings, exercises and checkpoints that help students to build confidence in their own critical readings of both primary and secondary texts, the book now also offers guidance on writing fully formed critical essays and tips for independent research. Comprehensively updated and revised throughout How to Read Texts is an indispensable guide for students making the transition to university study. The Observation Protocol for Academic Literacies Magaly Lavadenz, Elvira G. Armas, 2024-01-16 This book presents a validated observation instrument to support and further develop the pedagogic expertise of teachers of English Learners in US schools. Based on sociocultural and second language teaching and learning theories, the Observation Protocol for Academic Literacies (OPAL) has a variety of uses across teacher preparation programs, pre-K-12 classroom contexts, and school districts. This book leads the reader through the process of using OPAL with real classroom observations in the form of vignettes in order to develop confidence and reliability, scoring evidence in research-based practices. The book provides examples of its non-evaluative uses to conduct research, support teachers, and identify areas of strength and weakness in their professional development. It also offers researchers and policymakers a tool for collecting classroom-based evidence to inform the implementation and refinement of English Learner programs.

Intelligent Web-Based English Instruction in Middle Schools Jia, Jiyou, 2014-10-31 The integration of technology into educational environments has become more prominent over the years The combination of technology and face to face interaction with instructors allows for a thorough more valuable educational experience Intelligent Web Based English Instruction in Middle Schools addresses the concerns associated with the use of computer based systems in teaching English as a foreign language proving the effectiveness and efficiency of technological integration in modern classrooms Highlighting cases based on current practices in four diverse schools this book is a vital reference source for practitioners and researchers interested in the educational benefits of educational technologies in language acquisition
