The primary way in which we learn about the history of life on Earth is through _____.

Question 1 What happens to an inflated balloon when you heat it?

If you heat an inflated balloon, what happens to it?

ANSWER

- The gas particles inside it move faster, causing it to expand until it reaches a new larger size.
- The gas particles inside it move slower, causing it to contract until it reaches a new smaller size.
- The rate of nuclear fusion reactions it under the balloon.

Note that even if the balloon could not expand in size, the gas particles would still move faster. This is what would happen if the gas in the balloon were hot enough for fusion to occur, remembering that faster gas motion means higher temperature and that the fusion rate is very sensitive to temperature.
