Grade 12 Tourism Study Guide November 2013:

Ethnic and Minority Cultures as Tourist Attractions Anya Diekmann, Melanie Kay Smith, 2015-01-15 This book focuses on ethnic and minority communities in urban contexts and the ways in which their cultures are represented in tourism development. It offers a multi-disciplinary approach which draws on examples and case studies of ethnic and minority communities and cultural tourism development from all around the world including slums in India, favelas in Brazil, Chinatowns in Australia, Jewish quarters in Central and Eastern Europe, ethnic villages in China, the African district of Brussels, the gay quarter in Cape Town and a desert town in Israel. It offers a positive perspective on ethnic and minority cultures and communities at a time when social and political support is lacking in many countries. This book will be a useful resource for those studying and researching cultural and urban tourism, urban planning and development, community studies and urban and cultural geography.

A Sociology of the World Rally Championship H. Naess, 2014-09-23 Drawing upon interviews with key people in the World Rally Championship as well as trans-local ethnographic research, this book explores questions of commerciality and sporting identity, tackling the sport's controversial handling of the shift into the commercial age. It is essential reading on combining sporting heritage and commercial progress.

Issues in Cultural Tourism Studies Melanie K. Smith, 2015-10-14 The third edition of Issues in Cultural Tourism Studies provides a vital framework for analysing the complexity of cultural tourism and its increasing globalization in existing as well as emergent destinations of the world. It focuses in particular on the need for even more creative tourism strategies to differentiate destinations from each other using a blend of localized cultural products and innovative global attractions. The book explores many of the most pertinent issues in heritage, arts, festivals, indigenous, ethnic and experiential cultural tourism in urban and rural environments alike. Since the second edition of this book there have been many important developments in this field and this third edition has been completely revised and updated to include new content on demand and motivation for cultural tourism, sustainable cultural tourism and ethnic cultural tourism. New and updated case studies from an even wider global perspective. A revised up-to-date framework for global cultural tourism studies in the light of recent research, publications and industry developments. New pedagogical features within the text to aid understanding and critical thinking including questions at the end of case studies and a further reading section. At the interface between the global and the local, a sustainable and people-centred approach to cultural tourism planning and development is advocated to ensure that benefits are maximized for local areas, a sense of place and identity are retained and the tourist experience is enhanced to the full. The text is unique in that it provides a summary and a synthesis of all of the major issues in global cultural tourism which are presented in an accessible way using a diverse range of international case studies. It is essential and valuable reading for all tourism students.

Educational Reciprocity and Adaptivity Abe Ata, Ly Tran, Indika Liyanage, 2017-12-22 Educational Reciprocity and Adaptability challenges the common belief that adapting to new educational settings is the responsibility of international students alone The book argues that reciprocal responses are required by students and stakeholders alike for an efficient and equitable accommodation of international students in educational settings Considering how international students negotiate academic challenges and social tensions it presents both theoretical frameworks and practical tools to work around the tension regarding ethical academic practices Crucially exploring these issues across a range of geographical and institutional contexts and therefore offering critical insights into significant developments in international education across the world the much needed research in this edited collection explores institutional educational policies regarding international students and stakeholders institutional practices and how they are received educational adaptability and responses from different stakeholders the experiences of international students and institutions in negotiating academic and social tensions This important contribution to research on the experiences of international students in different geographical and educational contexts is of great interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of international education comparative education sociology of education youth studies intercultural studies migration studies and TESOL

Cultural Heritage, Transnational Narratives and Museum Franchising in Abu Dhabi Sarina Wakefield, 2020-09-22 This publication contributes to new understandings of how heritage operates as a global phenomenon and the transnational heritage discourses that emerge from this process Taking such a view sees autochthonous and franchised heritage not as separate or opposing elements but as part of the same process of contemporary globalised identity making which contributes to the development of newly emergent cosmopolitan identities The book critically examines the processes that are involved in the franchising of heritage and its cultural effects It does so by examining the connections and tensions that emerge from combining autochthonous and franchised heritage in the United Arab Emirates providing a unique window in to the process of creating hybrid heritage in non Western contexts It develops new ideas about how this global phenomenon works how it might be characterised and how it influences and is itself affected by local forms of heritage By exploring how autochthonous and franchised heritage is produced in Abu Dhabi in the United Arab Emirates it becomes clear that Western dominated practices are often challenged and perhaps more importantly that new ways of understanding producing and living with heritage are being articulated in these previously marginal locations The book offers innovative insights into heritage as a transnational process exploring how it operates within local national and international identity concerns and debates It will appeal to scholars and students interested in critical heritage studies museums tourism cultural studies and Middle Eastern studies children's literature finds its roots in folktales and storytelling. As countries distanced themselves from former colonial powers post 1950s the field has taken a new turn that emerges not just from writers within the region but also from those of its diaspora. Rich in language diversity and history, contemporary Caribbean children's literature offers a window into the ongoing representations of not only local realities but also the fantasies that structure the genre itself. Young adult literature entered the region in the 1970s offering much needed representations of teenage voices and concerns. With the growth of local competitions and publishing awards the genre has gained momentum providing a new field of scholarly analyses. Similarly, the field of picture books has also deepened. Caribbean Children's Literature Volume 1: History, Pedagogy, and Publishing includes general coverage of children's literary history in the regions where the four major colonial powers have left their imprint, addresses intersections between pedagogy and children's literature in the Anglophone Caribbean, explores the challenges of producing and publishing picture books, and engages with local authors familiar with the terrain. Local writers come together to discuss writerly concerns and publishing challenges. In new interviews conducted for this volume, international authors Edwidge Danticat, Junot Díaz, and Olive Senior discuss their transition from writing for adults to creating picture books for children.

Aboriginal Art and Australian Society Laura Fisher, 2016-05-30. This book is an investigation of the way the Aboriginal art phenomenon has been entangled with Australian society's negotiation of Indigenous people's status within the nation. Through critical reflection on Aboriginal art's idiosyncrasies as a fine arts movement, its vexed relationship with money, and its mediation of the politics of identity and recognition, this study illuminates the mutability of Aboriginal art's meanings in different settings. It reveals that this mutability is a consequence of the fact that a range of governmental, activist, and civil society projects have appropriated the art's vitality and metonymic power in national public culture, and that Aboriginal art is as much a phenomenon of visual and commercial culture as it is an art movement. Throughout these examinations, Fisher traces the utopian and dystopian currents of thought that have crystallised around the Aboriginal art movement and which manifest the ethical conundrums that underpin the settler state condition.
