

MODULE 5

CONSUMER PROTECTION

General introduction

Information technology has given birth to technologies like electronic data interchange and electronic currency transfer, which have grown into information technology-enabled commercial activities known as e-commerce with the help of the internet. The buying and selling of goods and services over electronic networks such as the internet and other computer networks are known as e-commerce. Electronic commerce makes use of a wide range of technologies, including electronic money transfers, supply chain management, Internet marketing, online transaction processing, electronic data interchange (EDI), inventory management systems, and automated data collection systems.

As the e- com transactions and persons who engage it increases day by day, the chance of exploitation also increases. Here comes the relevance of consumer protection in e commerce. If the issue of consumer protection is not effectively addressed with an adequate mechanism, it may have a negative impact on fair competition and the free flow of accurate information in the marketplace, as well as lead to consumer fraud and deceit in their e-commerce transactions.

History

The need to ensure basic rights to consumer welfare has long been recognized by legislations world over and so with India. On lines with the United Nations Guidelines on Consumer Protection (UNGCP), India enacted the Consumer Protection Act in 1986 to protect consumer interests. The popularity of the enactment lies in its avowed objectives of identifying consumer rights and providing cost-effective and speedy redressal. Though there are no specific laws governing e-commerce in India, in terms of Business-to-Consumer E-commerce, the existing provisions of Consumer Protection Act, 1986, is being applied to disputes in online transactions mostly under the provisions of 'Deficiency in Service' under Section 2(1)(g) of the Consumer Protection Act, 1986 or 'Unfair Trade Practices' under Section 2(1)(r) of the Consumer Protection Act, 1986.this was replaced with 2019 act and e-commerce rules in consumer protection to encompass the protection of e com consumers.
