The Dynamics of Opportunity in America Irwin Kirsch, Henry Braun,2016-01-22 Across the country our children are beginning life from very different starting points. Some have aspirations and believe they can be achieved. For too many others, aspirations are tempered if not dashed by the sobering realities of everyday life. These different starting points place children on distinctly different trajectories of growth and development, ultimately leading to vastly different adult outcomes. How did we get to a place where circumstances of birth have become so determinative? And what must we do within communities and across our country to better equalize opportunity for more Americans, both young and old? The editors of this volume contend that if as a nation we do nothing, then we will continue to drift apart, placing an unsustainable strain on the nation's social fabric and the character of its democracy. Consequently, understanding the dynamics governing the distribution and transmission of opportunity and transforming this understanding into policies and programs is critical for not only the life outcomes of individual Americans and their children but also the country as a whole. The goal of Educational Testing Service's Opportunity in America initiative is to explore these powerful dynamics and to describe and convey them in a way that advances the national conversation about why we must take action and how best to do so. This volume contains 14 chapters, including an epilogue, written by leaders from a range of fields, including education, economics, demography, and political science. Collectively, they not only illuminate key aspects of the problem but also offer suggestions of what policies, programs, and changes in practices could begin to reverse the trends we are seeing. Written in an engaging style, this volume constitutes an essential foundation for informed discussion and strategic analysis.

pHealth 2020 Lenka Lhotska, Peter Pharow, Filipe Sousa, 2020-09-15. Smart mobile systems such as microsystems, smart textiles, smart implants, and sensor-controlled medical devices, together with their related networks, have become important enablers for telemedicine and ubiquitous, pervasive health. To become next-generation health services, this book presents the proceedings of pHealth 2020, held as a virtual conference from 14-16 September 2020. This is the 17th in a series of international conferences on wearable or implantable micro and nano technologies for personalized medicine, which bring together expertise from medical, technological, political, administrative, and social domains and cover subjects including technological and biomedical facilities, legal, ethical, social, and organizational requirements and impacts, and the research necessary to enable future proof care paradigms. The 2020 conference also covers AI and robots in healthcare, bio-data management and analytics for personalized health, security, privacy, and safety challenges, integrated care, and the intelligent management of specific diseases, including the COVID-19 pandemic. Communication and cooperation with national and regional health authorities and the challenges facing health systems in developing countries were also addressed. The book includes 1 keynote, 5 invited talks, 25 oral presentations, and 8 short poster presentations from 99 international authors. All submissions were carefully and critically reviewed by at least two independent experts and at least one member of the Scientific Program Committee, a highly selective review process resulting in a full paper rejection rate of 36%. The book will be of interest to all those involved in the design and provision of healthcare and also to patients and citizen representatives.
