vaccination: increasing immunity against life-threatening infection Ritthideach Yorsaeng,Abanoub Riad,2024-01-25

Although COVID 19 full prime vaccination generates immunity against severe and life threatening infections there are still cases of breakthrough infections This might be due to several causes such as the fact that full prime vaccination might not generate enough immunity that immunity wanes over time or that the elderly immunocompromised transplant recipients and people with underlying diseases could suffer severe infections regardless of vaccination Moreover emerging new variants of concern such as Delta or Omicron that are highly infective and evade immunity could increase breakthrough infection Booster shots could increase immunity and reduce the likelihood of having severe COVID and post COVID 19 long COVID Immunocompromised or transplant recipients could generate immunity after booster shots even if they did not develop immunity after full prime Moreover booster shots not only protect vaccinated individuals but they could also reduce the impact on lifestyle public health and economics This research topic aims to focus on the effect of COVID 19 booster shots and the evidence seen in animal models clinical trials real world evidence and systematic reviews Targeted Innovative

Immunomodulation of Allergy and Inflammation by Natural Molecules and Probiotics Xiu-Min Li, Raj Tiwari ,Mingsan Miao,2025-03-03 Allergy is described as a global pandemic of non communicable inflammatory disease The World Allergy Organization estimates that 10 40% of the world s population is affected by allergic diseases Allergy manifests where the body confronts allergens in the environment such as nose or eyes resulting in allergic rhinitis skin resulting in dermatitis airways resulting in asthma and digestive system resulting in food allergy and eosinophilic esophagitis etc Food allergy FA increased drastically in the past 2 decades For example the estimated prevalence of food allergy is 10 % in the US 10 20% in UK 25% in Australia It estimates 200 400 million people may have food allergy globally Other allergic conditions also significantly increased These allergic conditions negatively affect quality of life in affected individuals and are potentially life threatening such as food induced anaphylactic shock and uncontrolled asthma Immunoglobulin E IgE is the central to the pathology of allergic diseases IgE binds to mast cells and basophils via high affinity receptors When these cells encounter specific allergens surface bound IgE is crosslinked and this triggers the cells to degranulate and release mediators such as histamine PAF and leukotrienes that cause symptoms such as hives swelling abdominal pain itching and respiratory distress and anaphylactic shock Eosinophils are the major inflammatory cells that involved in variety of allergic inflammatory conditions The mechanisms underlying the trend of allergy is largely unknown Current approaches to manage allergy include avoiding triggers using immune suppressing corticosteroids other medications such as antihistamine and allergen immunotherapy However long term use of some of the drugs may spark resistance and undesirable adverse effects There are no cures on the horizon Innovative approaches are needed Normally IgE producing B cells and plasma cells are minor populations with minimal IgE output compared with their counterparts such as IgG and IgA. Dysregulation of these cells causes excessive and persistent IgE production which is the key for allergy becoming lifelong. Despite decades of awareness about the centrality of allergen specific IgE in allergy, inhibiting IgE production by B cells plasma cells remains a major challenge. Omalizumab, the anti IgE antibody, traps IgE temporarily but does not tackle IgE production. Oral immunotherapy (OIT) including Palforzia may paradoxically increase IgE levels. Therefore, further research should focus on how to restore normality of IgE immune regulation which will alter the process of allergy leading to curative therapy. Recent research demonstrated that in addition to the classical Th1 and Th2 paradigm, B cell chemokines CXCL13 and plasma transcription factors XBP1 and Blimp1 contribute to persistent IgE production and to IgG1 cell conversion to IgE cells. BCL6 has been demonstrated as an IgE transcriptional suppressor. Furthermore, in addition, Th2 cell LC2 may also contribute to eosinophilic inflammation.
