Pershing II P II solid propellant rocket motors was historically the responsibility of the manufacturer Now the U S Army Pueblo Depot Activity PDA has been assigned the task of nondestructive evaluation and inspection NDE NDI of P II motors returned from the field The purpose of this study was to make recommendations for upgrading PDA s inspection capabilities Its procedures and facilities were reviewed as were the inspection requirements of field returned P II motors Advanced techniques such as computed tomography CT and real time radiography RTR were evaluated and experimental ultrasound and thermography techniques were reviewed The study recommended modification of existing inspection procedures and installation of an advanced RTR system including a modification of motor handling equipment The existing betatron appeared to be a suitable X ray source Also recommended were a borescope to inspect aspects of the solid fuel and a thickness gage CT was rejected because it cost more than RTR without increasing inspection capabilities and would require extensive modification or replacement of existing facilities Although potentially useful advanced ultrasound methods are still at the experimental stage and could not be recommended However an advanced thermography system was found to be immediately
