The Important Role of the Early School Years for Reading, Writing and Math Development: Assessment and Intervention at School Entry Christoph Weber,Martin Schöfl,Susanne Seifert ,Natalie Förster,2025-12-01 School entry is a critical life event for young children Students begin this new phase of their lives with very different abilities due to their individual characteristics previous experiences and education While some children hardly know any letters or numbers others can already read write and calculate quite fluently To optimally support young learners according to their respective starting conditions teachers must recognize students learning prerequisites and adapt instruction to students needs To this end both valid and economical assessments as well as effective and differentiated interventions are needed This Research Topic addresses new developments in early assessments and assessment based interventions around the time of school entry from the last year before enrollment until second grade In particular this Research Topic aims to bring together research that directly contributes to assessing children s difficulties and providing evidence based support We highly welcome new innovative approaches from the fields of education didactics and psychology that focus on the assessment and assessment based instruction in reading writing and maths Any empirical studies that help to improve the assessment and assessment based interventions for the competencies mentioned are welcome We are looking for empirical quantitative or qualitative studies dealing with the target group of children around the age of school entry last year of kindergarten to second grade elementary school that include at least one of the following topics the presentation or testing of new assessment procedures that focus on performance in and prerequisites for reading writing and maths assessment based interventions both whole class or individual approaches in reading writing and maths the co development of sub skills in reading writing and maths and consequences for assessment and intervention Please note that manuscripts without prior submission of an abstract will not be considered for the research topic

Teaching Statistical Concepts Anne Hawkins, Flavia Jolliffe, Leslie Glickman, 2014-09-19 There is growing recognition that statistics should be part of the core curriculum for the compulsory schooling of all children leading to a now urgent need for teachers to be trained in both statistical content and appropriate teaching methods This book lays the foundation for teacher s responses to these changes exploring how best to teach those applied skills which are now seen to be a more relevant part of the content of statistical courses Educational Research Roger Gomm, Peter Woods, 1993-11-28 This book provides exemplars of some of the major forms taken by contemporary educational research both qualitative and quantitative illustrating their strengths and weaknesses Education has always been a politically highly charged topic perhaps never more so than at present and the articles have been chosen to reflect this the new vocationalism the deprofessionalisation of teachers ethnicity league tables and the relationship between research and the political impact of research are all represented in the collection This is the companion volume to Educational Research Current Issues edited by Martyn Hammersley It is one of two course readers for The Open University course E824
