

The following are general comments about the structure and content of an academic essay written for university – they are not prescriptive and intended as an educational guide only.

Assignment 1: Essay | Date of assignment

It discusses the idea that ‘overconsumption in the modern world is a serious threat to true sustainability’.

It can be said that a growing trend of overconsumption, particularly in Western industrialised nations is rising considerably. This phenomena extends to a wide range of goods and products which at one time were built to be repaired and reused, but now deemed too expensive to do so, are simply tossed aside to make way for a brand new version of themselves. Also, it can be said that in these same developed nations especially, individuals consume and purchase far too many products, which are all too quickly consumed and not re-used, repaired nor recycled and after their usefulness has passed, are simply discarded or sent to landfill refuse sites. The overconsumption of goods and products therefore is seen as one of many common problems arising in the 21st Century and will continue to be ever more problematic until action is taken. As populations rise and become more affluent and developed, the consumption of goods and natural resources generally tend to grow exponentially and in many cases unsustainably leading to serious consequences. This essay will therefore discuss some of the main reasons for why overconsumption has become a worrying issue and a detrimental trend in the modern world. Also, possible strategies in which to reduce this growing epidemic in the future will be outlined and explored.

The reasons for overconsumption in modern developed societies could be said to be somewhat complex and not only linked to many countries’ greater affluence but also to satisfy individuals’ personal needs. Bourdieu (1984) states that in modern society, consumer patterns and buying behaviour represent an individual’s way of expressing the particular group to which they identify with in society. However, it could be stated that the main reasons for this increasing trend tend to be linked to industrially developed and developing societies of nations generally becoming more affluent; as well as the rise of modern machinery which can produce goods cheaper and more efficiently than ever before. A further factor could also be outlined in that a globalised economy is helping to buy and exchange goods on an immense international scale; which is further enhanced through global internet trading and increased economies of scale in modern manufacturing. Consequently, it can be deduced that it is mainly these phenomena which are driving the over consumption

Comment [Foll-1]: ① Good idea to have a header with the assignment title and date at the top. Also a footer with your name and student ID at the bottom, along with the page number.

Comment [Foll-2]: There is no need to write the question at the top of your assignment. This is for your mark only. Your introduction will paraphrase the question so that the reader understands.

Comment [Foll-3]: The essay starts by writing the scene (background) with info needed to orientate the reader as to the topic.

Comment [Foll-4]: The introduction is also the perfect place to state the question, so that the reader knows what it is, you’ll be discussing.

Comment [Foll-5]: Here the ‘thesis statement’ or the writer’s ‘main point of view’ is outlined.

Comment [Foll-6]: Towards the end of the introduction, the main points of what the essay will discuss are pointed out, making it clear to the reader what the points are going to be discussed.

Comment [Foll-7]: The paragraph starts with a topic sentence – which is the ‘main point’ of what the paragraph will discuss/argue.

Comment [Foll-8]: Paraphrased evidence here – supporting the writer’s idea.

Comment [Foll-9]: The paragraph subsequently builds up with supporting points/arguments throughout the body of the paragraph.

② It’s a good idea to add your name and student ID at the bottom of your page for identification purposes.
