A Good Teacher

Nowadays, being a teacher is a difficult yet rewarding job. Not everyone is well suited to teaching. Aside from having a love for working with children, being a teacher is not like any other job.

An effective teacher is not only the master of his or her subject area, but also an educator with a strong emotional character. Every day, a good teacher is expected to enjoy communicating with students from different social backgrounds, with different learning skills, and with multiple intelligences and emotions.

A good teacher sets high expectations of all students and never neglects or despises the underachievers. A good teacher is always available to help students anytime. Also, an efficient teacher is willing to support students who need extra assistance in learning the subject and encourage them to focus on effort, not excellence.

An effective teacher begins their lesson by giving clear instructions, describing expectations, and activities, and evaluating procedures. This will ensure that students remain on task during the whole session. Being asked open-ended questions require students to provide explanation and elaboration. This is a great opportunity to get them to explain themselves even more, and to help them remain interested and not be bored. Difficult as this may sound; however, this can be achieved.

What is more, an effective teacher is always enthusiastic, active, organized, clear, positive and caring, and often tries to make learning fun. A good teacher does not simply write the assignment on the board, and tell the students: "There's your assignment, get to work!". Instead, an effective teacher varies instructional methods, provides work of appropriate difficulty, adds materials and technology, uses games and rich media in the learning process. As a result, students will stay animated and crave learning.
