Chinese Cultural Diplomacy in the 21st Century Minglei Wang, 2025-09-23 This book examines the China Cultural Centre CCC project's establishment, operation and programming through the lens of cultural diplomacy. The work illuminates the main structural and operational characteristics of the CCC project by highlighting their similarities and differences compared to other cultural diplomacy initiatives, especially the Confucius Institutes (CIs). It also provides insights on its working modes and associated activities, primarily based on the case of the CCC in Australia, supplemented by information from other CCCs. Furthermore, it sheds light on the implications for the CCC project, expanding current discussions about Chinese cultural diplomacy. The book holds that the operation and programming of CCCs reflect common views of Chinese cultural diplomacy: strategically orientated, state-led and quantity-driven, while also highlighting the inclusion of foreign collaborators and a bottom-up strategy for facilitating engagement and understanding. This book will be of much interest to students of diplomacy studies, public diplomacy, foreign policy, Chinese politics and international relations. Language Standardization and Language Variation in Multilingual Contexts Nicola McLelland, Hui Zhao, 2021-11-24 This important contribution to the sociolinguistics of Asian languages breaks new ground in the study of language standards and standardization in two key ways: in its focus on Asia, with particular attention paid to China and its neighbours, and in the attention paid to multilingual contexts. The chapters address various kinds of, sometimes hidden, multilingualism and examine the interactions between multilingualism and language standardization, offering a corrective to earlier work on standardization which has tended to assume a monolingual nation-state and monolingual individuals. Taken together, the chapters in this book thus add to our understanding of the ways in which multilingualism is implicated in language standardization, as well as the impact of language standards on multilingualism. Set within both a historical and a current political context, this book covers hotly debated topics such as language and ethnicity, the relationship between non-native English and American identity, perceptions and stereotypes related to foreign accents code switching hybrid language forms such as Spanglish language and the family and the future of language in America Work from the fields of linguistics education policy history sociology and politics are brought together to provide an accessible overview of the key issues Through specific examples and case studies immigrant America is presented as a diverse multilingual and multidimensional space in which identities are often hybridized and always multifaceted

Chinese-Japanese Competition and the East Asian Security Complex Jeffrey Reeves, Jeffrey Hornung, Kerry Lynn Nankivell, 2017-07-14 This volume examines contemporary diplomatic economic and security competition between China and Japan in the Asia Pacific region The book outlines the role that Sino Japanese competition plays in East Asian security an area of study largely overlooked in contemporary writing on Asian security which tends to focus on US China relations and or US hegemony in Asia The volume focuses on Chinese and Japanese foreign policy under President Xi Jinping and Prime Minister Shinz Abe and regional security dynamics within and between Asian states institutions since 2012 It employs regional security complex theory as a theoretical framework to view Chinese and Japanese competition in the Asian region In doing so the volume draws on a levels of analysis approach to demonstrate the value in looking at security in the Asia Pacific from a regional rather than global perspective The vast majority of existing research on the region s security tends to focus on great power relations and treats Asia as a sub region within the larger global security architecture In contrast this volume shows how competition between the two largest Asian economies shapes East Asia s security environment and drives security priorities across Asia s sub regions As such this collection provides an important contribution to discussion on security in Asia one with potential to influence both political and military policy makers security practitioners and scholars This book will be of much interest to students of Asian politics regional security diplomacy and international relations
