bursts beyond established boundaries the fact that some states are much more powerful and exercise much more spatial reach than do others and that the political uses of territory in its current usage date back predominantly to seventeenth century Europe rather than being historically transcendental or worldwide The articles in this book are selected from Territory Politics Governance to survey many of the dilemmas and questions that haunt the concept of territory even as its current efflorescence in political discourse ignores them Handbook of Cities and the Environment Kevin Archer, Kris Bezdecny, 2016-12-30 With an ever growing majority of the world's human population living in city spaces the relationship between cities and nature will be one of the key environmental issues of the 21st Century This book brings together a diverse set of authors to explore the various aspects of this relationship both theoretically and empirically Rather than considering cities as wholly separate from nature a running theme throughout the book is that cities and city dwellers should be characterized as intrinsic in the creation of specifically urban generated socio natures Saving More Than Seeds Catherine Phillips, 2016-04-01 Saving More Than Seeds advances understandings of seed people relations with particular focus on seed saving The practice of reusing and exchanging seeds provides foundation for food production and allows humans and seed to adapt together in dynamic socionatural conditions But the practice and its practitioners are easily taken for granted even as they are threatened by neoliberalisation Combining original ethnographic research with investigation of an evolving corporate seed order this book reveals seed saving not only as it occurs in fields and gardens but also as it associates with genebanking genetic engineering intellectual property rights and agrifood regulations Drawing on diverse social sciences literatures Phillips illustrates ongoing practices of thinking feeling and acting with seeds raising questions about what seed people relations should accomplish and how different ways of relating might be pursued to change collective futures Geographic Measurement and Quantitative Analysis Robert Earickson, John M. Harlin, 1994 With a balance of human and physical examples coverage of computer programs for solving numerical problems and a practical focus on the working procedures of geographers this text is designed to instruct readers in the method that geographers apply Examples are included Mountain Ice and Water John F. Shroder, Gregory B Greenwood, 2016-11-18 Mountain Ice and Water Investigations of the Hydrologic Cycle in Alpine Environments is a new volume of papers reviewed and edited by John Shroder Emeritus Professor of Geography and Geology at the University of Nebraska at Omaha USA and Greg Greenwood Director of the Mountain Research Initiative from Bern Switzerland Chapters in this book were derived from research papers that were delivered at the Perth III Conference on Mountains of our Future Earth in Scotland in October 2015 The conference was established to help develop the knowledge necessary to respond effectively to the risks and opportunities of global environmental change and to support transformations toward global sustainability in the coming decades To this end the conference and book have investigated the future situation in mountains from three points of view 1 Dynamic Planet Observing explaining understanding and projecting Earth environmental and societal system trends drivers and processes
