Plot Arkady Kirsanov has just graduated from the University of Petersburg and returns with a friend Bazarov to his father's modest estate in an outlying province of Russia. His father Nikolai gladly receives the two young men at his estate called Maryino but Nikolai's brother Pavel soon becomes upset by the strange new philosophy called nihilism which the young men especially Bazarov advocate. Nikolai initially delighted to have his son return home slowly begins to feel uneasy and a certain awkwardness in his regard as it emerges that Arkady's views much influenced by Bazarov are radical and make his own beliefs feel dated. Nikolai has always tried to stay as current as possible by doing things such as visiting his son at school so the two can stay as close as they are but this in Nikolai's eyes has failed. To complicate this the father has taken a servant Fenechka into his house to live with him and has already had a son by her. Arkady however is not troubled by the relationship to the contrary he openly celebrates the acquisition of a younger brother. The two young men stay over at Maryino for some weeks then decide to visit a relative of Arkady's in a neighboring province. There they observe the local gentry and meet Madame Anna Sergeevna Odintsova an elegant woman of independent means who cuts a seductively different figure from the pretentious or humdrum types of her surrounding provincial society of gentry. Both are attracted to her and she intrigued by Bazarov's singular manner invites them to spend a few days at her estate Nikolskoe. While Bazarov at first feels nothing for Anna Arkady falls head over heels in love with her.
