Linda Beech,1990     Globalisation, Nation-Building and History Education Joseph Zajda,John Whitehouse,2024-03-19 This book uses historiography and discourse analysis to provide a new insight into understanding the nexus between ideologies the state and nation building as depicted in history school textbooks It focuses on the interpretation of social and political change significant events and examining possible new biases and omissions in school textbooks The Europeanization of history textbooks in the EU is an example of western dominated Grand Narrative of pluralist democracy multiculturalism and human rights according to the canon of a particularly European dimension Various public debates in the USA China the Russian Federation RF Japan and elsewhere dealing with understandings of a nation building national identity and history education point out to parallels between the political significance of school history and the history education debates globally
The book demonstrates that the issue of national identity and balanced representations of the past continue to dominate the debate surrounding the goals dominant ideologies and content of history textbooks and historical narratives It concludes that competing discourses and ideologies will continue to define and shape the nature and significance of historical knowledge ideologies and the direction of values education in history textbooks This book provides an easily accessible practical yet scholarly insights into local and global trends in the field of history education and should be required reading for a broad spectrum of users including policy makers academics graduate students education policy researchers administrators and
