

Chapter 11

Issues of Reporting and Disclosure

Questions for Review and Discussion

1. The term accounting accountability — the primary government's direct or indirect reporting responsibility of the unit's governing body, or a majority of the unit's governing body to a group of primary governmental officials and:
 - a. the primary government is able to report on and upon the financial statements and/or
 - b. there is the potential for the organization to provide specific financial benefits to its citizens specific financial benefits to the primary government.
2. Effective government is when one or both competing sides are required to separate resources after their participating in the primary government. Separating is when the competing sides' resources are divided and reported as if they were part of the primary government — that is, the competing sides' funds are accounted for just as if they were funds of the primary government. Separating is required when the primary government and the competing sides are controlled by government boards having the same members as the competing and primary entities, when in the primary government if these conditions are not satisfied then effective government is required.
3. Effective government, as it must be applied to government-wide accounts, allows for the aggregation of one number of different categories into aggregate of type and basis of accounting. Therefore, it is said, the government is evenly aggregated entities is said to be. The problem is mitigated by the requirement of disclosure that all that the government provide detailed financial information about each of its report component units.
4. The three main sections of the CAFR are:
 - a. Introductory section
 - b. Financial section
 - c. Statistical section

The main components of the financial section are:

 - a. auditor's report
 - b. management's discussion and analysis (MD&A)
