Global Mindsets John Kuada,2016-04-28 Global Mindsets seeks to tackle a topic that is relatively new in research and practice and is considered by many to be critical for firms seeking to conduct global business It argues that multiple mindsets exist across and within organizations that they operate in a global context and that they are dynamic and undergo change and action Part of the mindset s may depend upon place situation and context where individuals and organizations operate The book examines the notion of mindset is situational and dynamic especially in a global setting why it is important for future scholars and managers and how it could be conceptualized The book includes conceptual chapters that push the current boundaries of research on the topic and empirical chapters that demonstrate how different organizations in different countries apply mindset perspectives in their management practices It seeks to help academics consultants and researchers understand what has been said and studied about global mindsets in action and gain insights into possible directions and challenges that the field may face in the future

New Suits Michele DeStefano,Guenther Dobrauz-Saldapenna,2019-06-15 Time to get out of Law Land and back into the Jungle Fuelled by advancing technology new business models and altered client expectations the legal industry faces unprecedented change across its entire value chain Unfortunately many legal professionals fear the technology train and the convergence of other fields with law They see legaltech AI and bots like lions and tigers and bears oh my We the editors and authors of this book see opportunity Although the future may require us to put on new suits it represents an enormous opportunity for lawyers to reinvent ourselves for our own and our clients benefit Filled with chapters written by experts in the intersection of law innovation and technology this book provides a global perspective on the diverse legal service delivery ecosystem that will be our future It provides chapter upon chapter reason upon reason explaining why lawyers can and should increase their appetite for disruption in the legal world So welcome to the jungle and enjoy the ride as we attempt to systematically map the uncharted waters of the future legal realm and simultaneously inspire you to build a new future in law

Cognitive Processes in Individual and Collective Creativity: A Cross-Cultural Perspective Chang Liu,Linden John Ball,Haiying

Long, Wangbing Shen, 2019-12-30 Creativity the highest level of human wisdom has become an increasingly important concept in different fields of psychological enquiry particularly because it is portrayed as contributing to many aspects of society including personal development economic prosperity and technological advancement However although considerable research attention from a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds has focused on trying to understand creativity the specific nature of creativity its theoretical underpinnings and cognitive mechanisms remain unclear not least when it comes to the understanding of creativity at the individual level and creativity at the collective level On the one hand there are crucial distinctions between individual and collective creativity On the other hand the process of being creative involves not only independent or individual efforts but also interdependent or collective efforts Understanding these differences and interrelationships is crucially important in studies of creativity In this Research Topic we bring together research from a wide variety of cognitive and psychological approaches and perspectives in order to provide a comprehensive and in depth understanding of creativity at both the individual and collective levels Furthermore cognitive mechanisms in the creativity process are unavoidably affected by sociocultural factors and these mechanisms look different across cultures particularly between Eastern cultures and Western cultures two worlds that often imply dramatically dissimilar values and perspectives Despite the fact that many studies have compared and contrasted these two cultures in various respects little research has focused on the specific topic of cultural variation in creative cognition In addition very few studies have examined the differences in the cognitive mechanisms underpinning the cultural variations that can be observed at a surface level This Research Topic aims to fill this gap in the literature and examine the cognitive processes and mechanisms in the creativity process at both individual and collective levels across different cultures by using theoretical and empirical evidence Upsc

Selected Papers from the 2nd International Conference on Culture and Development ,2006 How can intercultural competences be measured? Laura Buonocore,2020-12-17 Seminar paper from the year 2020 in the subject Cultural Studies Miscellaneous grade 1 3 Fresenius University of Applied Sciences K In language English abstract The objective of this paper is to determine how intercultural competences can be measured The first step is to study the term intercultural competence in more detail and to clarify its precise meaning Next the different models of intercultural competence are described In addition the effort lies in questioning whether it is possible to measure intercultural competence and how this could be done in a meaningful way In the third chapter the necessity of the measurement the object of the measurement different measuring methods and the problems of the measurements are studied Lastly the conclusion is presented Democracy Watch Tony Momoh,2003 Corporate Finance Under Asymmetric Information Ejike Ezejiofor,2014-11-18 Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Economics Finance course MBA and Engineering language English abstract The specter of decreased economic activities financial crisis unbecoming ethical standards have in the recent past and fore going characterized asymmetric information on corporate finance The consequences normally have a ricochet effect and can be generally catastrophic to normal economic activities to mention the least This paper considers scenario s where information asymmetry was prevalent or may have had its effects play out The typical investor mindset and the opportunity cost associated with the preferred capital structure of the capitalizing process were mentioned A basis for proper appreciation of the concept Corporate finance under asymmetric information was initiated here with a detailed explanation of corporate finance and its components this was succeeded by a summary of scenarios where asymmetric information were prevalent and an intelligent look was also taken at asymmetric information between insiders and investors and the concomitant lemon problem where the effects were carefully highlighted in a progression to the level of severity Market breakdown and costly signaling The fact that asymmetric information has been widely recognized as bad and generally viewed in a negative light must warrant it being viewed with a high level of seriousness It is widely known that while lot of effort have been put into stemming the tides of the consequences of asymmetric information a lot of effort too have been dedicated to innovation and risk assessment to capture the interest of investors who have been affected by the consequences of asymmetric information These may have formed a veritable platform for a recent paper by Pierre Barbaroux 2014 that elucidated the rise of innovation and innovative entrepreneurs based on the management of asymmetric information An attempt has in any case been made here to suggest efforts at marginalizing the negative impacts of asymmetric information and also remedies at reducing the far reaching impacts on the lenders and the aggregate economic activity in general

An Analysis of the Russian Market and the Russian Culture Alexander Liebschner,2016-11-17 Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Business economics Miscellaneous grade 1 0 University of Applied Sciences Leipzig course International Strategy and Sales Management language English abstract The objective of this paper is to inform and sensitise the reader in terms of doing sales business in Russia The reader shall understand the challenges and opportunities the Russian market has to offer as well as the meaningfulness of regarding the cultural aspects in doing business Belonging to the rising BRIC states Russia witnessed huge invests of foreign countries within the last years This does not surprise because this country has enormous potentials Primary materials labour force a large and growing demand of consuming and a great demand of infrastructure and modern industry Throughout western countries Germany has an advantage in doing business in Russia Due to history and the geographical situation Germany is traditionally a bit closer to it and there are still people speaking Russian Anyway some companies fail on the Russian market The cause of this is often the wrong mindset A takeover of concepts and approaches from known markets to a new country especially to Russia is very likely to fail It is a matter of common knowledge that business strategy is based and adapted from military Instead of the opponent there is the business partner Fight is the competition on the market for customers Thus the author refers to a famous quote describing the intention of the current paper Sun Tzu the well known general strategist and philosopher of ancient China announced If you know the enemy and know yourself you need not fear the result of a hundred battles If you know yourself but not the enemy for every victory gained you will also suffer a defeat The author applies the following methodology In the first part the development of the Russian market within the last years is stated Risks and opportunities are evaluated as a requirement to elaborate the possibilities how to do sales business in Russia within the following part Each of the two parts are supported by a current case example of German Companies which entered the Russian market Thereafter the focus is set on cultural aspects The author approaches the topic by using cultural dimensions of the scientists Geert Hofstede and Edward T Hall In the last chapter the gathered knowledge is transformed and concluded to recommendations for doing sales business in Russia

Yojana ,2014 The ambivalent character of the gift in segmentary societies according to Marcel Hénaff and Pierre Bourdieu Bernd Schreiber,2018-01-11 Seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject Philosophy Philosophy of the 20th century grade 1 3 University of Hagen Philosophie course Meisterkurs mit Marcel H naff Der Preis der Wahrheit language English abstract Are gifts disinterested presents challenges geared to rivalry and fighting offers of social reciprocal recognition or an exchange of goods on a pure economic base Sociologists psychologists ethnologists and philosophers have discussed these questions for decades initiated in many cases by the Essai sur le don by Marcel Mauss written in 1924 25 about the form and reason for exchange in archaic societies Reciprocity social totality anti utilitarianism and amalgamation of souls and things are the main issues of his ethnographic fundamental and systematic comparative study of the exchange of gifts Following Moebius the consequential intense receptions can be substantially divided into two main strands On the one hand there is the anti utilitarianism mindset While the former idea emphasizes an anti economic and unproductive wasteful perception the latter structure centered view sees the exchange of goods as a supra subjective structure caused unconsciously by the mind with its ability to symbolize and following Bourdieu to be thoroughly economic and benefit oriented In a different approach Caill tries to overcome the antagonism of both lines by his so called third paradigm He suggests to avoid the one dimensional view of holistic vs individualistic rationally vs voluntary but to speak of the four different cornerstones of human activity which interact parallel with different intensity These cornerstones are voluntariness obligation interest and altruism The occurrence of contrasting characteristics as paradox phenomena of the gift is particularly picked up by Marcel H naff in a highly regarded approach directing attention to reciprocal recognition and the creation of a social bond This seminar paper will investigate the ambivalent character of the gift Between and within the two main strands mentioned there exists such an argumentative width and depth that it is essential for the feasibility with reasonable effort to restrict the considerations related to the number of protagonists and aspects The limitation will refer to two approaches firstly Marcel H naff and his view of the ceremonial gift and secondly Pierre Bourdieus understanding of the giving procedure As starting points and sources of the statements Der Preis der Wahrheit and Die Gabe der Philosophen as well as Entwurf einer Theorie der Praxis are used Pharmacotherapy Casebook: A Patient-Focused Approach, 10/E Terry L.
