Children, Young People and Critical Geopolitics Matthew C. Benwell, Peter Hopkins, 2017-05-15 Young people and in particular children have typically been marginalised in geopolitical research positioned as too young to understand or relate to the adult dominated world of international relations Integrating current debates in critical geopolitics and political geography with research in children's geographies childhood studies and youth research this book sets out an agenda for the field of children's and young people's critical geopolitics It considers diverse practices such as play activism media consumption and diplomacy to show how children's and young people's lives relate to wider regional and global geopolitical processes Engaging with contemporary concepts in human geography including ludic geopolitics affect emotional geographies intergenerationality creative diplomacy popular geopolitics and citizenship the authors draw on geopolitical research with children and young people from Europe Asia Australasia Africa and the Americas The chapters highlight the ways in which young people can be enrolled ignored dismissed empowered and represented by the state for geopolitical ends Notwithstanding this state power the research presented also shows how young people have agency and make decisions about their lives which are influenced by wider geopolitical processes The focus on the lives of children and young people problematises and extends what it is we think of when considering the geopolitical which enriches as well as advances critical geopolitical enquiry and deserves to be taken seriously by political geographies more broadly Yojana, 2014

Planning for an innovation district Sara Lawrence, Michael Hogan, Elizabeth Grace Brown, 2019-02-13 Innovation districts are physical spaces that serve to strengthen the foundations and institutions of an innovation ecosystem The design implementation and management of formalized innovation districts is a new practice area Research draws upon the experience of concentrated areas of innovation that occurred organically such as Boston's Route 128 as well as intentional projects to bring together innovators in large science and technology parks such as North Carolina's Research Triangle Park Existing research focuses on how to define and design innovation districts and evaluate their impact as well as general policy considerations In this paper we review the definitions and benefits of an innovation district reviewing the existing empirical research on their impacts We then propose a series of questions to guide practitioners in addressing the economic physical social and governance elements of an innovation district Finally we outline some of the challenges in creating an innovation district and ways to measure progress to allow practitioners to get ahead of potential issues in the future This paper is intended to help policymakers and practitioners working in innovation and economic development translate the concepts of innovation ecosystems into actionable next steps for planning innovation districts in their communities Regime of Obstruction William K. Carroll, 2021-04-23 Rapidly rising carbon emissions from the intense development of Western Canada's fossil fuels continue to aggravate the global climate emergency and destabilize democratic structures The urgency of the situation demands not only scholarly understanding but effective action Regime of Obstruction aims to make visible the complex connections between corporate power and the extraction and use of carbon energy Edited by William Carroll this rigorous collection presents research findings from the first three years of the seven year SSHRC funded partnership the Corporate Mapping Project Anchored in sociological and political theory this comprehensive volume provides hard data and empirical research that traces the power and influence of the fossil fuel industry through economics politics media and higher education Contributors demonstrate how corporations secure popular consent and coopt disorganize or marginalize dissenting perspectives to position the fossil fuel industry as a national public good They also investigate the difficult position of Indigenous communities who while suffering the worst environmental and health impacts from carbon extraction must fight for their land or participate in fossil capitalism to secure income and jobs The volume concludes with a look at emergent forms of activism and resistance spurred by the fact that a just energy transition is still feasible This book provides essential context to the climate crisis and will transform discussions of energy democracy Contributions by Laurie Adkin Angele Alook Clifford Atleo Emilia Belliveau Thompson John Bermingham Paul Bowles Gwendolyn Blue Shannon Daub Jessica Dempsey Emily Eaton Chuka Ejeckam Simon Enoch Nick Graham Shane Gunster Mark Hudson Jouke Huizer Ian Hussey Emma Jackson Michael Lang James Lawson Marc Lee Fiona MacPhail Alicia Massie Kevin McCartney Bob Neubauer Eric Pineault Lise Margaux Rajewicz James Rowe JP Sapinsky Karena Shaw and Zoe Yunker
