Little Rain And Little Snow:

Little Rain and Little Snow Anna Hodges, 2014-04-19 Little Rain and Little Snow is an inspirational children's story that brings awareness to the issue of bullying and the dangers of running away while sharing a lesson on North American weather patterns that result in hurricanes. Author/illustrator Anna White Hodges has craftily woven this tale together with rhyme and brightly illustrated it using colored pencils. This story will hold the attention of children of all ages as they learn valuable lessons while being encouraged to create more harmony in the world. Little Rain and Little Snow are twin boys that belong to Mr. Sun and Mrs. Cloud. Along the front of strong North East winds came a Little Rain and Little Snow, a brand new set of twins. Their growing experiences begin after they grew bored and restless and ran away one night away from their mother's shadow and from their father's light. They met up with a Hurricane named Bully only to realize they had made a big mistake. Little Rain and Little Snow knew they were in trouble. As they watched a house below turn into rubble, the danger mounts and the suspense continues. Bully Hurricane was getting meaner by the minute. They tried to get away but they were trapped in it. When Mr. Sun and Mrs. Cloud realized their children were missing, what do you think they did? They called for Cousin Cold Front, who lived out in the west. He's dealt with many hurricanes; they knew he was the best. In the end, don't tell the kids yet. Cousin Cold Front and his horse named Artic Blast rescue Little Rain and Little Snow. With lessons learned, Little Rain and Little Snow were sorry they caused their parents grief. Cousin Cold Front and Artic Blast took them home before night. Back to their mother's shadow and to their father's light. As a bonus, Anna White Hodges provides a glossary that uses the characters to describe various weather elements and encourages children to break the cycle of bullying by comparing a bully to a hurricane. She explains that although hurricanes are destructive and bad, they also bring drought-busting rains and important nutrients to marshlands. Therefore, a bully and a hurricane are similar because although they are bad, there can be something good inside.
