From The Fifteenth District Stories:

From the Fifteenth District Mavis Gallant, 2014-12-16 A fine tuned and elegant collection from the prize winning author of Paris Stories Kirkus Reviews Mavis Gallant has a unique talent for distilling the sense of otherness one feels abroad into something tangible and utterly understandable In this collection she relates the stories of those stranded in relationships places and even times in which they don t belong In The Moslem Wife a woman is entrusted to look after a hotel in France when her husband is trapped in America after the breakout of World War II As the situation progresses the two grow in surprising and profound ways In another tale a German prisoner of war is released from France and returns home to a mother whose personality has been as irrevocably changed by the war as his has In one of the most poignant entries Gallant follows the life of a Holocaust survivor illustrating how his experiences tint his outlook on life forty years later With its wide breadth of subject matter and the author s characteristic way with nuance From the Fifteenth District is classic Mavis Gallant

From The Fifteenth District Mavis Gallant, 2011-06-22 Set in Europe in the aftermath of the Second World War the nine stories in this glittering collection reflect on the foibles and dilemmas of human relationships An English family goes to the south of France for the sake of the father s health and to get away from an England of rationing and poverty A displaced person turned French soldier in Algeria now makes a living as an actor in Paris A group of selfish English expatriates on the Italian Riviera are incredulous that Mussolini and the Germans may affect their lives A great writer s quiet widow blossoms in widowhood to the surprise and alarm of her children who send a ten year old grandson to Switzerland to keep her company one Christmas Full of wry humour and penetrating insights this is Mavis Gallant at her most unforgettable The Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage, 1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the reading of women s writing that has gone on in the last twenty five years This is an opportunity for stock taking a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered reclaimed and republished There are entries on writers on individual texts and on general terms genres and movements all printed in a single alphabetical sequence The earliest written documents in medieval English the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day The book reflects the spread of literacy the history of colonisation and the development of post colonial cultures using and changing the English language The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality wealth and diversity of women s writing The English Short Story in Canada Reingard M. Nischik, 2017-04-11 In 2013 the Nobel Prize for Literature was for the first time awarded to a short story writer and to a Canadian Alice Munro The award focused international attention on a genre that had long been thriving in Canada particularly since the 1960s This book traces the development and highlights of the English language Canadian short story from the late 19th century up to the present The history as well as the theoretical approaches to the genre are covered with in depth examination of exemplary stories by prominent writers such as Margaret Atwood and Alice Munro

Learning to Look Lesley Diana Clement, 2000 In Learning to Look Lesley Clement traces the evolution of Mavis Gallant's visually evocative style through five decades of her short fictional works Gallant explores the boundaries between visible and invisible worlds as the lines, shapes and colours suggested by her allusions, analogies and structures challenge us as readers

Diaspora and Exile Lucía Mora González, Bernhard Dietz Guerrero, Asunción Sánchez Villalón, 2001 The different contributions of this body of work attempt to demonstrate that the concept of diaspora/exile has acquired a renewed currency among scholars by examining that to be in exile at least in some way is to live a disjoint life Thus to live in exile or diaspora implies to take up the difficult task of keeping one's dignity and one's story despite the onslaught of a colonial power The relationship with a past often through stories of the mother land or through remembrance and re-creation becomes a means of survival Furthermore the sense or absence of community and the positioning in language generate an ever more complex and dialogic definition of Canadian and American nationalities and identities

From the Fifteenth District Mavis Gallant, 2001 Ranging in time and background from the Italian Riviera in the 1930s to Berlin in the early 1970s these stories explore with consummate artistry the disparity between appearance and reality and misunderstandings between people

The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well-known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada, the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance, Germany

The Short Story in English Neil Kalman Besner,David Staines,1991 This anthology for university courses general literature and also the short story presents the short story form through its classic texts in the English language An unusual feature of the selection is that almost all of the thirty writers included are represented by two stories which will permit in depth comparisons of stories and stylistic analysis Half the stories are by men half by women and one third of the writers are
