

Citation Basics:

1 Place IN-TEXT CITATIONS in the body of the paper to acknowledge the source of your information. This is meant to be a shortened version of the full citation that appears on the final page of your paper.

Planning intergenerational activities in retirement homes helps keep the elderly connected with the younger generation and improves their mental state. For example, a recent study of Korean elders (Rodriguez, 2003) found that patient depression rates were lower in retirement homes that sponsored occasional social activities with local school children than those that did not.

2 Place full citations for all your sources on the last page entitled REFERENCES or WORKS CITED (different citation styles require different titles) Full citations are meant to provide readers with enough information so that they can locate the source themselves.

References

Rodriguez, R. (2003). The elder population: Psychology and well-being. New York: Penguin Books.

3 APA or MLA are citation styles. Each has different guidelines for how source information (author, title, year...etc.) should be formatted and punctuated for both in-text citations and for the References or Works Cited pages
