Globalization, International Education Policy and Local Policy Formation Carolyn A. Brown,2014-10-13 This edited volume focuses on how international education policy set by international policymakers and donors influences local education policy in developing countries The book s primary purpose is to give voice to scholars from developing countries and regions around the world by inviting them to explore how the international policy invariably linked to international aid influences education policy formation and implementation in their country or region and how this influence does or does not meet the local cultural social economic and political needs A relatively recent and small body of research and commentary supports a discourse that questions how well international education policy mandates such as Education For All serve the needs of developing countries The intent of this book is to advance this discourse by giving voice to local scholars who observe and study the donor process The book will be divided into two sections the first section will set the stage for the discussions in the second section by providing theoretical and historical context for international education policy As a framework for understanding the book adopts the position that international policy does not have either the ability or the intent to serve the widely diverse needs of development around the world International education policy has been formed historically by wealthy nations and agencies dominated by Western theoretical paradigms In recent years donor countries have made an effort to collaborate with developing countries in developing international education policy goals however this collaboration has been limited Following establishment of the context of international education policy section II of the book provides a forum for scholars from around the world to openly discuss and critique the impact of international policy on education in their country or region Eleven ICT and Computer Studies Greg Baker, Tom Bowen, John Gesa, Jr., Martha Lulu Aaron,2013 Information & Communication Technology(Ict) Grade 11 Riiit,2010-07 Preparing for Life in a Digital World Julian Fraillon, John Ainley, Wolfram Schulz, Tim Friedman, Daniel Duckworth,2020-02-13 This Open Access book summarizes the key findings from the second cycle of IEA s International Computer and Information Literacy Study ICILS conducted in 2018 ICILS seeks to establish how well schools around the globe are responding to the need to provide young people with the necessary digital participatory competencies Effective use of information and communication technologies ICT is an imperative for successful participation in an increasingly digital world ICILS 2018 explores international differences in students computer and information literacy CIL namely their ability to use computers to investigate create and communicate at home at school in the workplace and in the community Participating countries also had an option to administer an assessment of students computational thinking CT focused on their ability to recognize aspects of real world problems appropriate for computational formulation and to evaluate and develop algorithmic solutions to those problems so that the solutions could be operationalized with a computer The data collected by ICILS 2018 show how digital competencies can be assessed using instruments representing authentic contexts for ICT use and how students CIL and CT skills relate to school learning experiences out of school contexts and student characteristics Those data also show how learning technologies are used in classrooms around the world Background questionnaires asked students about their use of ICT and collected information from teachers schools and national education systems about the resourcing and teaching of CIL and CT within their countries The results of ICILS 2018 will enable policymakers and education systems to develop a better understanding of the contexts and outcomes of CIL and CT education programs Exploring Pedagogical Practices at the Basic Schools in Nepal Dr. Rajendra Kumar Shah, The pedagogical practices of Basic Education Schools in Nepal have been explored extensively in the present book Four chapters are included in this book In the first chapter the ancient education system and the prevailing pedagogical practices at that time have been utterly discussed Accordingly in the second chapter the educational system and pedagogical practices during the Ranas have been analyzed After this chapter in the third chapter education and pedagogical practice of Panchayat Era is explored And in the final chapter existing education and pedagogical practices of Nepal are explored In this book each chapter describes the brief political history of that period the development of education education policies and the pedagogical practices Curriculum subjects of study teaching method role of teacher and student educational administration assessment procedures financing of school education and physical infrastructure are main subject matters of each chapter It is hoped that this book will satisfy the various questions related to pedagogical practices at the Basic Education School in Nepal Reviews of National Policies for Education: Kyrgyz Republic 2010 Lessons from PISA OECD,2010-11-30 This report explains the reasons for the dramatically low performance of Kyrgyz students in the 2006 PISA survey despite significant resources and efforts invested in education by schools parents and government and makes recommendations to Kyrgyz authorities for policy improvement
