2. Farming factors

Fertile and arable land or land that provides good grazing for livestock.
Land that are flat or gentle are also preferred.

Charles Prestwood Sir Lucas meticulously chronicles the pivotal period in Canadian history that spans from the end of the Seven Years War to the dawn of the War of 1812 His narrative is characterized by a scholarly yet accessible prose style illustrating significant political social and economic changes in Canada during this transformative era Engaging with primary sources and contemporary accounts Lucas situates Canada within the broader context of British imperial expansion and the geopolitical tensions of the time offering a nuanced exploration of the development of Canadian identity amidst colonial governances and Indigenous relations Lucas a prominent historian and public servant was deeply influenced by the cultural and political landscapes of his time His background in law and governance combined with his keen interest in the historical narratives of Canada led him to undertake this comprehensive study His dedication to uncovering the complexities of Canadian history stems from a desire to illuminate the roots of national identity specifically during an era often overshadowed by wars and colonial policies For anyone interested in Canadian history or the intricacies of colonial narratives Lucas s work is an essential read His balanced approach provides valuable insights for historians students and general readers alike encouraging a deeper understanding of the formative years that shaped the future of Canada Globalization Development and Social Justice Ann El Khoury,2015-03-27 Are there existing alternatives to corporate globalization What are the prospects for and commonalities between communities and movements such as Occupy the World Social Forum and alternative economies Globalization Development and Social Justice advances the proposition that another globalization is not only possible but already exists It demonstrates that there are multiple pathways towards development with social justice and argues that enabling propositional agency rather than oppositional agency such as resistance is a more effective alternative to neoliberal globalization El Khoury develops a theory of infraglobalization that emphasizes creative constitution not just contestation of global and local processes The book features case studies and examples of diverse economic practice and innovative emergent political forms from the Global South and North These case studies are located in the informal social economy and community development as well as everyday practices from prefigurative politics to community cooperatives and participatory planning This book makes an important contribution to debates about the prospects for and practices of a transformative grassroots globalization and to critical debates about globalization and development strategies
