Progress Johan Norberg, 2017-04-06 A Book of the Year for The Economist and the Observer Our world seems to be collapsing The daily news cycle reports the deterioration divisive politics across the Western world racism poverty war inequality hunger While politicians journalists and activists from all sides talk about the damage done Johan Norberg offers an illuminating and heartening analysis of just how far we have come in tackling the greatest problems facing humanity In the face of fear mongering darkness and division the facts are unequivocal the golden age is now Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Genocide and Memory Jutta Lindert, Armen T. Marsoobian, 2018-02-12 This book explores the memory and representation of genocide as they affect individuals communities and families and artistic representations It brings together a variety of disciplines from public health to philosophy anthropology to architecture offering readers interdisciplinary and international insights into one of the most important challenges in the 21st century The book begins by describing the definitions and concepts of genocide from historical and philosophical perspectives Next it reviews memories of genocide in bodies and in societies as well as genocide in memory through lives mental health and transgenerational effects The book also examines the ways genocide has affected artistic works From poetry to film photography to theatre it explores a range of artistic approaches to help demonstrate the heterogeneity of representations This book provides a comprehensive and wide ranging assessment of the many ways genocide has been remembered and represented It presents an ideal foundation for understanding genocide and possibly preventing it from occurring again The War Lawyers Craig Jones, 2020-11-26 Over the last 20 years the world s most advanced militaries have invited a small number of military legal professionals into the heart of their targeting operations spaces which had previously been exclusively for generals and commanders These professionals trained and hired to give legal advice on an array of military operations have become known as war lawyers The War Lawyers examines the laws of war as applied by military lawyers to aerial targeting operations carried out by the US military in Iraq and Afghanistan and the Israel military in Gaza Drawing on interviews with military lawyers and others this book explains why some lawyers became integrated in the chain of command whereby military targets are identified and attacked whether by manned aircraft drones and or ground forces and with what results This book shows just how important law and military lawyers have become in the conduct of contemporary warfare and how it is understood Jones argues that circulations of law and policy between the US and Israel have bolstered targeting practices considered legally questionable contending that the involvement of war lawyers in targeting operations enables legitimises and sometimes even extends military violence Language Development and Social Integration of Students with English as an Additional Language Michael Evans, Claudia Schneider, Madeleine Arnot, Linda Fisher, Karen Forbes, Yongcan Liu, Oakleigh Welply, 2020-07-16 Using empirical data this volume explores the link between second language development and social integration of migrant school students Music, Subcultures and Migration Elke

Weesjes, Matthew Worley, 2024-03-26 This edited volume concentrates on the period from the 1940s to the present exploring how popular music forms such as blues disco reggae hip hop grime metal and punk evolved and transformed as they traversed time and space Within this framework the collection traces how music and subcultures travel through to and from democracies autocracies and anocracies The chosen approach is multidisciplinary and deliberately diverse Using both archival sources and oral testimony from a wide variety of musicians promoters critics and members of the audience contributors from a range of academic disciplines explore music and subcultural forms in countries across Asia Europe Oceania North America and Africa They investigate how far the meaning of music and associated subcultures change as they move from one context to another and consider whether they transcend or blur parameters of class race gender and sexuality

Detain and Deport Nancy Hiemstra, 2019-03-15 Detention and deportation have become keystones of immigration and border enforcement policies around the world The United States has built a massive immigration enforcement system that detains and deports more people than any other country This system is grounded in the assumptions that national borders are territorially fixed and controllable and that detention and deportation bolster security and deter migration Nancy Hiemstra's multisited ethnographic research pairs investigation of enforcement practices in the United States with an exploration into conditions migrants face in one country of origin Ecuador Detain and Deport's transnational approach reveals how the U S immigration enforcement system's chaotic organization and operation distracts from the mismatch between these assumptions and actual outcomes Hiemstra draws on the experiences of detained and deported migrants as well as their families and communities in Ecuador to show convincingly that instead of deterring migrants and improving national security detention and deportation generate insecurities and forge lasting connections across territorial borders At the same time the system's chaos works to curtail rights and maintain detained migrants on a narrow path to deportation Hiemstra argues that in addition to the racialized ideas of national identity and a fluctuating dependence on immigrant labor that have long propelled U S immigration policies the contemporary emphasis on detention and deportation is fueled by the influence of people and entities that profit from them
