aspects Forensic analysis is performed at two different levels Computer Forensics and Network Forensics Computer forensics deals with the collection and analysis of data from computer systems networks communication streams and storage media in a manner admissible in a court of law Network forensics deals with the capture recording or analysis of network events in order to discover evidential information about the source of security attacks in a court of law Network forensics is not another term for network security It is an extended phase of network security as the data for forensic analysis are collected from security products like firewalls and intrusion detection systems The results of this data analysis are utilized for investigating the attacks Network forensics generally refers to the collection and analysis of network data such as network traffic firewall logs IDS logs etc Technically it is a member of the already existing and expanding the field of digital forensics Analogously network forensics is defined as The use of scientifically proved techniques to collect fuses identifies examine correlate analyze and document digital evidence from multiple actively processing and transmitting digital sources for the purpose of uncovering facts related to the planned intent or measured success of unauthorized activities meant to disrupt corrupt and or compromise system components as well as providing information to assist in response to or recovery from these activities Network forensics plays a significant role in the security of today s organizations On the one hand it helps to learn the details of external attacks ensuring similar future attacks are thwarted Additionally network forensics is essential for investigating insiders abuses that constitute the second costliest type of attack within organizations Finally law enforcement requires network forensics for crimes in which a computer or digital system is either being the target of a crime or being used as a tool in carrying a crime Network security protects the system against attack while network forensics focuses on recording evidence of the attack Network security products are generalized and look for possible harmful behaviors This monitoring is a continuous process and is performed all through the day However network forensics involves post mortem investigation of the attack and is initiated after crime notification There are many tools which assist in capturing data transferred over the networks so that an attack or the malicious intent of the intrusions may be investigated Similarly various network forensic frameworks are proposed in the literature
