Complexity and Simplicity in Science Education David Geelan, Kim Nichols, Christine V. McDonald, 2022-01-25 This edited volume brings together a broad range of international science education studies focusing on the interplay of teaching and learning science. It recognizes the complexity present in today's education associated with major science-related issues faced by society such as climate change, diseases and pandemics, global conflicts over energy, food and water. The studies discussed in this volume are focused on presenting different opportunities to teach these convoluted matters in order to find simplicity within the complexity and make it accessible to learners. They bring together the challenges of preparing the students of today to become scientifically informed citizens of tomorrow. Electronic Engineering and Information Science

Influences of the IEA Civic and Citizenship Education Studies

Barbara Malak-Minkiewicz, Judith Torney-Purta, 2021-05-26 This open access book identifies the multiple ways that IEA's studies of civic and citizenship education have contributed to national and international educational discourse, research, policymaking and practice. The IEA International Civic and Citizenship Education Study (ICCS) first conducted in 2009 was followed by a second cycle in 2016. The project was linked to the earlier IEA Civic Education Study (CIVED) 1999-2000. IEA's ICCS remains the only large-scale international study dedicated to formal and informal civic and citizenship education in school. It continues to make substantial contributions to understanding the nature of the acquired civic knowledge, attitudes and participatory skills. It also discusses in depth how a wide range of countries prepare their young people for citizenship in changing political, social and economic circumstances. The next cycle of ICCS is planned for 2022. In this book, more than 20 national representatives and international scholars from Europe, Latin America, Asia and North America assess how the processes and findings of the 2009 and 2016 cycles of ICCS and CIVED 1999-2000 have been used to improve nations' understanding of their students' civic knowledge, beliefs, attitudes, current civic-related behaviors and intentions for future participation in a comparative context. There are also chapters summarizing the secondary analysis of those studies' results, indicating their usefulness for educational improvement and reflecting on policy issues. The analyses and reflections in this book provide timely insight into international educational discourse, policy, practice and research in an area of education that is becoming increasingly important for many societies. Future Communication, Information and
