Suid-Afrikaanse Hofverslae, 2014 Handbook of Automated Scoring Duanli Yan, André A. Rupp, Peter W. Foltz, 2020-02-26 Automated scoring engines require a careful balancing of the contributions of technology NLP psychometrics artificial intelligence and the learning sciences The present handbook is evidence that the theories methodologies and underlying technology that surround automated scoring have reached maturity and that there is a growing acceptance of these technologies among experts and the public From the Foreword by Alina von Davier ACTNext Senior Vice President Handbook of Automated Scoring Theory into Practice provides a scientifically grounded overview of the key research efforts required to move automated scoring systems into operational practice It examines the field of automated scoring from the viewpoint of related scientific fields serving as its foundation the latest developments of computational methodologies utilized in automated scoring and several large scale real world applications of automated scoring for complex learning and assessment systems The book is organized into three parts that cover 1 theoretical foundations 2 operational methodologies and 3 practical illustrations each with a commentary In addition the handbook includes an introduction and synthesis chapter as well as a cross chapter glossary The Palgrave Handbook of Teacher Education Research Ian Menter, 2023-03-24 This handbook presents a timeless comprehensive and up to date resource covering major issues in the field of teacher education research In a global landscape where migration inequality climate change political upheavals and strife continue to be broadly manifest governments and scholars alike are increasingly considering what role education systems can play in achieving stability and managed sustainable economic development With growing awareness that the quality of education is very closely related to the quality of teachers and teaching teacher education has moved into a key position in international debate and discussion This volume brings together transnational perspectives to provide insight and evidence of current policy and practice in the field covering issues such as teacher supply preservice education continuing professional learning leadership development professionalism and identity comparative and policy studies as well as gender equity and social justice Forget School Martin Illingworth, 2020-04-07 Written by Martin Illingworth Forget School Why young people are succeeding on their own terms and what schools can do to avoid being left behind is a wide reaching engaging enquiry into the things that young people actually need from their education Schools are at a crossroads either they respond to the real world of change challenges and possibilities that face young people or they become irrelevant Young people need to network effectively manage their finances responsibly and be digitally proficient and alert to the world around them If schools do not adapt their provision to nurture these capabilities then today's youth will increasingly turn to alternative sources to seek out the education they need Drawing on the experiences of young self employed adults Martin Illingworth's Forget School shares key insights into the ways in which education can be recalibrated to better support young people In doing so he provides practical suggestions around how schooling culture curriculum design and pedagogical approaches can be reconfigured in readiness for the emerging shifts and trends in 21st century life and employment Martin sheds light on how young people perceive school s current provision and offers greater insight into what they think needs to change if education is to work for generations to come He also explores the importance of digital proficiency in the 21st century and how young people as digital natives both acquire it and leverage its benefits independently of school instruction Essential reading for anyone working in education

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman,John Read,Theo du Plessis,2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience
