

We're constantly competing against fine German craftsmanship.

The hand workmanship in Mercedes-Benz cars is world famous. But we put much more of our trust in scientific brainwork.

For instance, we never leave it to the welder to decide how many welds a Mercedes-Benz body should have. An electronically controlled welding line does a better job.

Certain welding stages must be free of oxygen, a small step that's a big help later in foiling corrosion. Here we weld with a special method using an inert gas, Argon. And no human hand interferes.

Valves, oil and gas lines were washed free of dirt and dust in the same seemingly foolproof way, year after year. But now we also employ ultrasonics to bombard away every last clinging particle — and any danger of clogging.

Skilled hands once fashioned map pockets in the doors. We wanted stronger, safer map pockets. Now they're machine pressed.

Sometimes even brainpower has its limits. So computers re-check many ideas. And keep the work flow flowing smoothly.

A lot of brainwork goes into our cars. It's the only way to compete with fine German handwork.
