Medicine* W.H.G. Goethe,E.N. Watson,D.T. Jones,2012-12-06 International cooperation on the health of seafarers began many years ago As early as 1921 an international convention regarding this matter was presented to govern ments of maritime countries for ratification The First World Health Assembly in 1948 recommended that WHO should establish with the International Labour Of fice a Joint Committee on the hygiene of seafarers The first session of this Com mittee held in 1949 defined the problems affecting the health of seamen and made a number of recommendations In the opinion of this Joint Committee the health of seamen called for interna tional attention for a nu mb er of reasons By the nature of his work the seafarer is obliged to travel from country to country and is exposed to great variations of cli mate and also to any disease that may be prevalent in the port of call He may there fore become a carrier of disease so that the protection of his health is of importance not only to himself and the other members of the crew but also to the populations of other countries he visits Yet on account ofthe nature ofhis employment it is diffi cult to provide the seafarer with the same standard of health care that is gene rally available to other sections of the population      The Soldier's First Aid .. R. C. Wood,1917      The Handbook of Lunchtime Supervision Shirley Rose,2009-12-04 Praise for the first edition How well the author understands her subject There are good clear case studies training activities clear explanations Properly used and applied her advice could have a more calming effect on a school than the most elaborate disciplinary policy The Times Educational Supplement Everything you need to know about supervising primary pupils during the lunchtime break is covered in this handbook This new edition of A Handbook of Lunchtime Supervision has been fully updated to incorporate Every Child Matters recent changes in legislation on safeguarding children and the career and development of Lunchtime Supervisors Including a new chapter on healthy eating and an exploration of the role of the teaching assistant at lunchtime it provides guidance on important issues and includes activities to supplement advice and examples of good practice Topics include how to encourage healthy eating
