Brett Bennett, Fred Kruger

Limpopo Grade9 Final Exam 2013:

The Politics and Governance of Basic Education Brian Levy, Robert Cameron, Ursula Hoadley, Vinothan Naidoo, 2018-09-05
This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence. It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. All over the world economic inclusion has risen to the top of the development discourse. A well performing education system is central to achieving inclusive development but the challenge of improving educational outcomes has proven to be unexpectedly difficult. Access to education has increased but quality remains low with weaknesses in governance comprising an important part of the explanation. The Politics and Governance of Basic Education explores the balance between hierarchical and horizontal institutional arrangements for the public provision of basic education. Using the vivid example of South Africa, a country that had ambitious goals at the outset of its transition from apartheid to democracy, it explores how the interaction of politics and institutions affects educational outcomes. By examining lessons learned from how South Africa failed to achieve many of its goals, it constructs an innovative alternative strategy for making process combining practical steps to achieve incremental gains to re-orient the system towards learning.

Forestry and Water Conservation in South Africa Brett Bennett, Fred Kruger, 2015-11-11
This innovative interdisciplinary study focuses on the history, science, and policy of tree planting and water conservation in South Africa. South Africa's forestry sector has sat often controversially at the crossroads of policy and scientific debates regarding water conservation, economic development, and biodiversity protection. Bennett and Kruger show how debates about the hydrological impact of exotic tree planting in South Africa shaped the development of modern scientific ideas and state policies relating to timber plantations, water conservation, invasive species control, and biodiversity management within South Africa as well as elsewhere in the world. Forestry and Water Conservation in South Africa shows how scientific research on the impact of exotic and native vegetation led to the development of a comprehensive national policy for conserving water, producing timber, and protecting indigenous species from invasive alien plants. Policies and laws relating to forests and water began to change in the late 1980s and early 1990s as a result of political and administrative changes within South Africa. This book suggests that the country's contemporary policies towards timber plantations, guided by the National Water Act of 1998, need to be reconsidered in light of the authors' findings. Bennett and Kruger also call for more interdisciplinary research and greater emphasis on integrated policies and management plans for forestry, invasive alien plants, water conservation, and biodiversity preservation.

Cultural Diversity in Neuropsychological Assessment Farzin Irani, 2022-02-27
Cultural Diversity in Neuropsychological Assessment provides a platform for clinical neuropsychologists, psychologists, and trainees to bridge cultures and speak to each other about the ethnically diverse communities they serve throughout the world. It allows readers to peek into their clinical filing cabinets and examine how they worked with diverse individuals from indigenous and migrant communities of Arab, Asian, European, Israeli, Latin American, and Caribbean/Persian.

Russian Sub Saharan African and North American origin The book first reviews important foundations for working with diverse communities that include key knowledge awareness skills and action orientation It then provides a collection of cases for each cultural geographic region Each section begins with an introductory chapter to provide a bird s eye view of the historical and current state of clinical and research practice of neuropsychology in that region Then each chapter focuses on a specific community by providing surface and deep level cultural background knowledge from the authors unique perspectives A case study is then covered in depth to practically showcase an evaluation with someone from that community This is followed by a summary of key strategic points lessons learned references further readings and a glossary of culture specific terminology used throughout the chapter In the end the appendix provides a list of culturally relevant tests and norms for some communities This ground breaking peer reviewed handbook provides an invaluable clinical resource for neuropsychologists psychologists and trainees It increases self reflection about multicultural awareness and knowledge highlights practical ways to increase cultural understanding in neuropsychological and psychological assessments and sparks further discussion for professional and personal growth in this area
