Creating Self-Regulated Learners Linda B. Nilson, 2023-07-03 Most of our students neither know how learning works nor what they have to do to ensure it to the detriment both of their studies and their development as lifelong learners The point of departure for this book is the literature on self regulated learning that tells us that deep lasting independent learning requires learners to bring into play a range of cognitive skills affective attitudes and even physical activities about which most students are wholly unaware and that self regulation which has little to do with measured intelligence can be developed by just about anyone and is a fundamental prerequisite of academic success Linda Nilson provides the theoretical background to student self regulation the evidence that it enhances achievement and the strategies to help students develop it She presents an array of tested activities and assignments through which students can progressively reflect on monitor and improve their learning skills describes how they can be integrated with different course components and on various schedules and elucidates how to intentionally and seamlessly incorporate them into course design to effectively meet disciplinary and student development objectives Recognizing that most faculty are unfamiliar with these strategies she also recommends how to prepare for introducing them into the classroom and adding more as instructors become more confident using them The book concludes with descriptions of courses from different fields to offer models and ideas for implementation At a time of so much concern about what our students are learning in college and how well prepared they are for the challenges of tomorrow s economy and society self regulated learning provides a reassuring solution particularly as studies indicate that struggling students benefit the most from practicing it Nautilus Magazine of New Thought Elizabeth Jones Towne, 1925

Handbook of Happiness Research in Latin America Mariano Rojas, 2015-10-09 This book presents original happiness research from and about a region that shows unexpectedly high levels of happiness Even when Latin American countries cannot be classified as high income countries their population do enjoy on average high happiness levels The book draws attention to some important factors that contribute to the happiness of people such as relational values human relations solidarity networks the role of the family and the availability and gratifying using of leisure time In a world where happiness is acquiring greater relevance as a final social and personal aim both the academic community and the social actors and policy makers community would benefit from Happiness Research in Latin America Student

Self-Evaluation: Fostering Reflective Learning Jean MacGregor, 1993 For several decades college teachers have been asking students to engage in self evaluation to reflect on their academic work and describe and evaluate it in writing Student self evaluation is both a process consisting of acts of reflecting composing and writing and a product a writtten document Student self evaluation does not obviate the need for student exams and papers crucial indicators of student mastery of material or complexity of thinking Rather student self evaluation supplements and complements that information by asking students to describe in their own words their learning and its value to them This writing and the conversations that faculty members and students have about it can be instructional illuminating and at times transformative Student self evaluation is primarily a learning strategy but it is also a promising assessment approach while enriching learning for students it also can help teachers and institutions learn about student learning This volume of New Directions for Teaching and Learning introduces the many forms of student self evaluation in undergraduate teaching settings and describes how student self evaluation creates connections between learners and learning knowers and the known and the self and the mind This is the 56th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Teaching and Learning For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page Online Teaching at Its Best Linda B. Nilson, Ludwika A. Goodson, 2017-11-08 Bring pedagogy and cognitive science to online learning environments Online Teaching at Its Best A Merger of Instructional Design with Teaching and Learning Research is the scholarly resource for online learning that faculty instructional designers and administrators have long been awaiting Over 70 percent of degree granting institutions offer online classes and while technical resources abound the courses often fall short of integrating the best practices in online pedagogy even if they comply with online course design standards Typically these standards omit the best practices in teaching and learning and the principles from cognitive science leaving students struggling to keep the pace understand the material and fulfill their true potential as learners This book fills the gap providing evidence based practices for online teaching online course design and online student motivation integrated with pedagogical and cognitive science to help you build the distance learning courses and programs your students deserve As more and more students opt for distance learning it s up to designers and instructors to rethink traditional methods and learn to work more effectively within the online learning environment and up to administrators to provide the needed leadership Online Teaching at Its Best provides practical real world advice grounded in educational science to help online instructors instructional designers and administrators deliver an exceptional learning experience Adopt new pedagogical techniques designed specifically for online learning environments Ensure strong course alignment and effective student learning for online classes Increase student retention build necessary support structures and train faculty more effectively Integrate research based course design and cognitive psychology into graduate or undergraduate programs Distance is no barrier to a great education what do stand in the way are inadequate online course design and implementation and deficient faculty training and support all of which administrators can mitigate Online Teaching at Its Best will help you ensure that your online classes measure up to the rigor and quality of excellence in teaching and assessment build in the personal touch for developing a learning community and equip your students to succeed in the next challenge American Printer and Bookmaker ,1926 Report Upon the Survey of the University of Wisconsin Wisconsin.
