Heitzeg, 2016-04-11 This book offers a research and comparison driven look at the school to prison pipeline its racial dynamics the connections to mass incarceration and our flawed educational climate and suggests practical remedies for change How is racism perpetuated by the education system particularly via the school to prison pipeline How is the school to prison pipeline intrinsically connected to the larger context of the prison industrial complex as well as the extensive and ongoing criminalization of youth of color This book uniquely describes the system of policies and practices that racialize criminalization by routing youth of color out of school and towards prison via the school to prison pipeline while simultaneously medicalizing white youth for comparable behaviors This work is the first to consider and link all of the research and data from a sociological perspective using this information to locate racism in our educational systems describe the rise of the so called prison industrial complex spotlight the concomitant expansion of the medical industrial complex as an alternative for controlling the white and well off both adult and juveniles and explore the significance of media in furthering the white racial frame that typically views people of color as criminals as an automatic response The author also examines the racial dynamics of the school to prison pipeline as documented by rates of suspension expulsion and referrals to legal systems and sheds light on the comparative dynamics of the related educational social control of white and middle class youth in the larger context of society as a whole Alexander's Care of the Patient in Surgery - E-Book Jane C. Rickards, Monica Stitt-Bergh, 2016-09-27 Evaluation has played a fundamental role throughout the history of higher education It has been key to institutional missions and for accountability concerns for public funding policy and fiscal oversight In the last 30 years there has been focused attention on the quality of education and student learning Campuses have stepped up their initiatives to evaluate educational outcomes and communicate these to their constituencies just as regional state and national efforts have emerged regarding assessment of learning outcomes In this context various methods and approaches to evaluative inquiry have emerged to support efforts to increase the effectiveness and efficiency of instructional practice and curriculum for higher learning This edition examines perspectives on evaluation studies addressing higher education learning from program to institution based studies and critiques of practice to document successes and identify significant challenges that face evaluators and the collaborating educators in the continuing development of higher education This examination represents both an investigation into the particular insights that evaluative inquiry contributes to the scholarship and practice of higher education and a reflection on the evaluation expertise that can be applied across contexts of professional practice and program development This is the 151st issue in the New Directions for Evaluation series from Jossey Bass It is an official publication of the American Evaluation Association
