Responsibilities Luke Glanville, James Pattison, 2024-06-24 States face multiple ongoing and emerging challenges from climate change to global disease mass atrocities to forced displacement humanitarian crises to entrenched global poverty and are constrained by material and political limits to the amount of resources that they can devote to these issues How should states decide which issues to prioritize and which crises to address Prioritizing Global Responsibilities answers this question by proposing a two level account of just prioritization that aims to be both philosophically sound and practically relevant The authors assess several potential prioritization principles including diversification culpability urgency disadvantage and national interest and argue that states should prioritize issues where they can assist most effectively and where they can help those who are most underprivileged Prioritizing Your Work and Life Lawrence S

Scott, 2022-11-04 Do you ever feel like you re spinning plates We re not speaking in literal terms of course unless you happen to be a circus performer Instead we re referring to those hair pulling moments in life and especially at work when it feels like you ve got a million things to do at once and you need to keep them all in balance But you can t just let a single plate drop because that could lead to a catastrophic domino effect resulting in well a lot of smashed plates No to keep every single one of those plates spinning you need to know where to direct your attention and when it's here that we come to that magical and seemingly mythical term prioritization. It's something we all know we should be doing. But implementing a system that works. That's another matter entirely. Read along as I'll be talking more on prioritization and how you can prioritize your work and life.

Guide to Program Planning and Priority Setting Marie-Hélène J. Collion, Ali Kissi, International Service for National Agricultural Research, 1995. The present volume is an English translation of ISNAR's Research Management guidelines no 2 guide d'élaboration de programmes et d'établissement de priorités. That original publication describes a methodology coming out of years of collaboration between INRA and ISNAR. The history of that effort is well described below by the director general of INRA of that time. Since 1993 ISNAR has extended its collaboration with in a number of new domains with the full support and guidance of INRA's present director general, Arifi. Recognizing that the approaches developed jointly with Morocco can serve other developing countries, he has allowed INRA experts to participate in program formulation and priority setting exercises in other areas forthcoming in the framework of this continued collaboration.
