

INTERNATIONAL TRADE ASSIGNMENT 1

SEMESTER 1, 2020

I. INTRODUCTION

Assume that you are an economic consultant hired by an international organization/government to provide your expert advice on conditions pertaining to international trade in Argentina and El Salvador. Your analysis will consist of two separate reports (one for Assignment 1 and the other for Assignment 2). As an expert, your job is two-fold:

1. You are required to analyse any relevant issue using your technical skills. This involves utilizing your knowledge in international trade models as well as inspecting and interpreting data.
2. You need to communicate your results in an effective way.

The purpose of this exercise is to assess your aptitudes in each domain. You will evaluate the trading conditions in these countries (Argentina and El Salvador) based on the scenarios detailed in each question in this Assignment. Your analysis will form the basis for a short report to the international organization/government body---summarising your analysis and the associated rationale.

II. DATA SOURCE

For your data analysis, you first need to obtain data from the World Bank (see the link below) and follow the steps described below. Notice that World Bank regularly updates its database; therefore it is crucial to obtain all data as soon as possible. The data range is from 1998 to 2014.

You need to obtain the country-level data for Argentina and El Salvador on:

- i. Imports of goods and services (in current US$)
- ii. Exports of goods and services (in current US$)
- iii. GDP (in current US$)
- iv. GDP per capita (in current US$)
- v. GINI Index (World Bank estimate) from the World Bank's World Development Indicators;

(<http://databank.worldbank.org/data/reports.aspx?source=world-development-indicators>).

[Note that if your browser (such as Chrome) does not open the web page, try a different browser (such as Internet Explorer)]

Please DO NOT attach Excel files to the brief. The policy brief needs to be precise and short. Avoid unnecessary jargon. Your policy brief cannot exceed two pages.
