The Unions' Response to Globalization Gary Chaison, 2014-07-08 Globalization is commonly described in trade and cultural terms but its impact on unions and collective bargaining is seldom assessed. The few studies of unions and globalization are mostly collections of cases studies of how unions can work together or with other alliance partners to defend against the power of multinational corporations. This book goes beyond the current research by asking how unions have tried to deal with globalization and how globalization might threaten the fundamental union mission of taking wages, hours and conditions of employment out of competition. The introductory chapter defines globalization and uses the case of the Detroit Three automakers GM, Chrysler and Ford to show how globalization can affect employment and union size, influence and relevancy. The second chapter shows how unions deal with globalization through collective bargaining regarding outsourcing, alliances, strikes and political action including lobbying and international work standards. The final chapter argues that the unions cannot continue unchanged in this age of globalization and asks what they must do to be effective and relevant.

The Kurdish Spring David L. Phillips, 2017-07-05 Kurds are the largest stateless people in the world. An estimated thirty-two million Kurds live in Kurdistan, which includes parts of Turkey, Iraq, Syria and Iran, today's hot spots in the Middle East. The Kurdish Spring explores the subjugation of Kurds by Arab, Ottoman and Persian powers for almost a century and explains why Kurds are now evolving from a victimized people to a coherent political community. David L. Phillips describes Kurdish rebellions and arbitrary divisions in the last century, chronicling the nadir of Kurdish experience in the 1980s. He discusses draconian measures implemented by Iraq, including use of chemical weapons, Turkey's restrictions on political and cultural rights, denial of citizenship and punishment for expressing Kurdish identity in Syria, and repressive rule in Iran. Phillips forecasts the collapse and fragmentation of Iraq. He argues that US strategic and security interests are advanced through cooperation with Kurds as a bulwark against ISIS and Islamic extremism. This work will encourage the public to look critically at the post-colonial period, recognizing the injustice and impracticality of states that were created by Great Powers and offering a new perspective on sovereignty and statehood.

Gastronomy and Urban Space Andrzej Kowalczyk, Marta Derek, 2020-01-20 This book focuses on the relationship between gastronomy and urban space. It highlights the intrinsic role of eating establishments and the gastronomy industry for cities by assessing their huge impacts on urban changes and discussing some of the challenges posed by new developments. Written by authors with a background in geography, it starts by discussing theoretical aspects of studies on gastronomy in urban space to place the subject in the broader context of urban geography. Covering both changes and challenges in gastronomy in urban space, it presents a wide range of problems which are described and analysed using various case studies from Europe and other parts of the world.

Encounters with Popular Pasts Mike Robinson, Helaine Silverman, 2015-03-19 This volume is based on the recognition that heritage is popular and popular culture is now readily transformed into heritage whose meanings and myths reshape social life and political and economic realities as well as re make tradition The papers in this volume consider What does popular heritage look like To whom does it speak Is it active in dissolving class and cultural boundaries or just in reproducing new ones How do societies manage a heritage that is fluid immediate and that straddles extremes of serious conflict and hedonistic frivolity When under what circumstances is the creation and expression of new cultural forms popular culture capable of being transformed into heritage
