Grade Maths Memo 2014 November:

Caught in the Act Cyril Julie, Lorna Holtman, Charles R. Smith, 2019-12-11 The research reported in Caught in the Act draws together the insights gained from a continuous professional development initiative for high school mathematics teachers teaching in low socio economic status and socially challenged environments in South Africa The chapters show the possibilities for enhancing achievement in school mathematics if a strength based approach is adopted to develop teaching with teachers and when their concerns are taken seriously The book demonstrates that the ecological relevance fitness for the context in which teachers are teaching of the goods developed and distributed by initiatives should be a major consideration to offer hope for sustainable implementation to improve school mathematics education The book is of interest to mathematics teachers school leaders mathematics curriculum advisors policy makers and researchers Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents, 1965 The Gambler and the Scholars John F. Dooley, 2023-04-05 In May 1917 William and Elizebeth Friedman were asked by the U S Army to begin training officers in cryptanalysis and to decrypt intercepted German diplomatic and military communications In June 1917 Herbert Yardley convinced the new head of the Army's Military Intelligence Division to create a code and cipher section for the Army with himself as its head These two seminal events were the beginning of modern American cryptology the growth of which culminated 35 years later with the creation of the National Security Agency Each running their own cryptologic agencies in the 1920s the Friedman Yardley relationship was shattered after Yardley published a tell all book about his time in military intelligence Yet in the end the work they all started in 1917 led directly to the modern American intelligence community As they got older they became increasingly irrelevant in the burgeoning American cryptologic fraternity Topics and features Examines the lives of three remarkable and pioneering cryptologists Offers fascinating insights into spies codes and ciphers rumrunners poker and military history Sheds new light on interesting parts of the cryptologists careers especially Elizebeth Friedman whose work during World War II has just begun to be explored Recounts several good stories i e What if the Friedmans had gone to work for Herbert Yardley in his new Cipher Bureau in 1919 What if Yardley had moved back to Washington to work for William Friedman a decade later This enjoyable book has wide appeal for general readers interested in the evolution of American cryptology American historians particularly of World War I the inter war period and World War II signals intelligence and historians of and general readers interested in American military intelligence It also can be used as an auxiliary text or recommended reading in introductory or survey courses in history or on the related topics Knowledge, Curriculum and Equity Brian Barrett, Ursula Hoadley, John Morgan, 2017-07-20 In 2008 the first in a series of symposia established a social realist case for knowledge as an alternative to the relativist tendencies of the constructivist post structuralist and postmodernist approaches dominant in the sociology of education The second symposium focused on curriculum and the development of a theoretical language grounded in social realism to talk about issues of knowledge and curriculum Finally the third symposium brought together researchers in a broad range of contexts to build on these ideas and arguments and with a concerted empirical focus bring these social realist ideas and arguments into conversation with data Knowledge Curriculum and Equity Social Realist Perspectives contains the work of the third symposium where the strengths and gaps in the social realist approach are identified and where there is critical recognition of the need to incrementally extend the theories through empirical study Fundamentally the problem that social realism is seeking to address is about understanding the social conditions of knowledge production and exchange as well as its structuring in the curriculum and in pedagogy The central concern is with the on going social reproduction of inequality through schooling and exploring whether and how foregrounding specialised knowledge and its access holds the possibility for interrupting it This book consists of 13 chapters by different authors working in Oceania Asia Europe Africa and North America From very different vantage points the authors focus their theoretical and empirical sights on the assumptions about knowledge that underpin educational processes and the pursuit of more equitable schooling for all
