

Human Inheritance Lab

Objectives

To determine phenotypic characteristics and genotypes for some autosomal traits.
To determine the frequency (%) of dominant and recessive trait in population.

Materials

Class

Procedure

Obtain the phenotypic characteristics and the corresponding gene genotypes for the traits listed below:

- In the first row determine Table 1, but use 27 individuals. For each one, list the dominant phenotype and the recessive phenotype. Use the examples in the table for correct formatting.
- In the corresponding row of Table 1, write your phenotype and determine its dominance or recessive.
- In the third column of Table 1, write your genotype based on your phenotype.

Questions

- If you show the recessive trait, then you must be homozygous recessive.
- If you show a dominant trait, you may be heterozygous or homozygous dominant for that trait.
 - If one of your parents shows the recessive trait, then you must have passed on a gene for the recessive trait, and you must be heterozygous for that trait.
 - If neither of your parents shows the recessive trait, you may not know if you are heterozygous or homozygous dominant for that trait. In that case, you may provide genotypes (heterozygous and homozygous dominant).

 If you need help, you may ask your parents about their traits. * Do not tell your parents that you are doing a genetics lab. If your parents get involved they might learn your parents' blood group and provide genotypes for dominant-recessive genes.
