Guidelines For Presentations In Class:

How to Give Effective Feedback to Your Students Susan M. Brookhart, 2008 A teacher's feedback on student schoolwork can be a powerful force for learning if it contains a helpful message and is delivered with certain considerations in mind But what kind of content makes a feedback message helpful to a student And what kinds of strategies work best for delivering feedback In How to Give Effective Feedback to Your Students Susan M Brookhart answers these questions by describing important elements of feedback content focus comparison function valence clarity specificity and tone and strategy timing amount mode and audience Grounded in what researchers have learned about effective feedback the book provides practical suggestions and classroom examples that demonstrate what to do and not do to have a positive impact on students In addition to general guidelines for good feedback readers will learn what kinds of feedback work best in the various content areas and how to adjust feedback for different kinds of learners including successful students struggling students and English language learners Done well feedback has a two pronged effect it influences cognitive factors by helping students understand where they are in their learning and where they need to go next and it influences motivational factors by helping students develop a feeling of control over their own learning Taken together these factors explain why learning how to give good feedback should be at the top of every teacher's to do list

English for Academic Research: A Guide for Teachers Adrian Wallwork, 2016-05-19 Scientific English is possibly the most rewarding area of EFL teaching It differs from English for Academic Purposes EAP as it is directed to a much smaller audience PhD and postdoc students Courses on Scientific English are held in universities throughout the world yet there is very little support for teachers in understanding what to teach and how to teach it This guide is part of the English for Academic Research series Part 1 of the book sheds light on the world of academia the writing of research papers and the role of journal editors and reviewers Part 2 gives practical suggestions on how to help your students improve their presentation skills In Part 3 you will learn how to teach academic skills using nonacademic examples Parts 1-3 are thus useful for anyone involved in teaching academic English whether they have used the other books in the series or not Part 4 suggests two syllabuses for teaching writing and presenting skills based on the two core books English for Writing Research Papers English for Presentations at International Conferences This book will help you i understand the world of your students i.e academic research ii plan courses and iii exploit the What's the Buzz sections in the books on Writing Presentations Correspondence and Interacting on Campus Adrian Wallwork has written over 30 books covering General English Cambridge University Press Scholastic Business English Oxford University Press and Scientific English Springer He has trained several thousand PhD students from all over the world to write and present their research Adrian also runs a scientific editing service English for Academics E4AC
