

Measuring Motion

BEFORE YOU READ

After you read this section, you should be able to answer these questions:

- What is motion?
- How is motion shown by a graph?
- What are speed and velocity?
- What is acceleration?

What Is Motion?

Look around the room for a moment. What objects are in motion? Are students writing with pencils in their notebooks? Is the teacher writing on the board? Motion is all around you, even when you can't see it. Blood is circulating throughout your body. Earth orbits around the sun. Air particles shift in the wind.

When you watch an object move, you are watching it in relation to what is around it. Sometimes the objects around the object you are watching are at rest. An object that seems to stay in one place is called a reference point. When an object changes position over time in relation to a reference point, the object is in motion.

You can use standard reference directions (such as north, south, east, west, right, and left) to describe an object's motion. You can also use features on Earth's surface, such as buildings or trees, as reference points. The figure below shows how a mountain can be used as a reference point to show the motion of a hot-air balloon.

The hot-air balloon changed position relative to a reference point.

STUDY TIP

Describe Study each graph carefully. In the margin next to the graph, write a sentence or two explaining what the graph shows.

READING CHECK

1. Describe What is the purpose of a reference point?

TAKE A LOOK

2. Identify What is the fixed reference point in the photos?
