David Frederick Ross, 1995-11-30 It has been said that every generation of historians seeks to rewrite what a previous generation had established as the standard interpretations of the motives and circumstances shaping the fabric of historical events. It is not that the facts of history have changed. No one will dispute that the battle of Waterloo occurred on June 11, 1815, or that the allied invasion of Europe began on June 6, 1944. What each new age of historians are attempting to do is to reinterpret the motives of men and the force of circumstance impacting the direction of past events based on the factual, social, intellectual, and cultural milieu of their own generation. By examining the facts of history from a new perspective, today's historians hope to reveal some new truth that will not only illuminate the course of history but also validate contemporary values and societal ideals. Although it is true that tackling the task of developing a new text on logistics and distribution channel management focuses less on schools of philosophical and social analysis and more on the calculus of managing sales campaigns, inventory replenishment, and income statements, the goal of the management scientist like the historian is to merge the facts and figures of the discipline with today's organizational, cultural, and economic realities. Hopefully, the result will be a new synthesis where a whole new perspective will break forth, exposing new directions and opportunities.

Marketing Research Jan Wiid, Colin Diggins, 2010-06 Written for introductory marketing classes, this text explains what information is needed to plan and implement a successful marketing campaign and how to find that data. Including details on finding such relevant facts as the size of a potential market, the shopping and buying habits of consumers in that market, and the competitive and environmental factors that may affect a campaign, this primer will guide readers to become savvy marketing managers.

Fashion Entrepreneurship Caroline Swee Lin Tan, Saniyat Islam, 2026-04-02 This new book is designed to provide a practical and comprehensive guide to fashion entrepreneurship, empowering readers to transform their creative ideas into a viable fashion business. Providing a comprehensive overview of both the commercial and creative aspects of building a fashion business, this textbook also incorporates perspectives on the major sustainability and ethical issues that are salient in the fashion industry today. Chapters cover a wide range of topics, including customer discovery and validation, the Lean Startup approach, and minimum viable products, research strategies, market and trend analysis, sustainable sourcing and ethical supply chains, branding and marketing, e-commerce, legal and financial considerations, leadership, and organisational culture, performance measurement, and strategies for global expansion. Each chapter includes pedagogical features such as learning objectives, summaries, discussion questions, and suggested further reading lists, which help to reinforce these key concepts. Case studies, learning activities, and real-world examples are also featured throughout this book, allowing students and practitioners to apply these concepts to their own businesses. This textbook provides key reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students studying fashion entrepreneurship, fashion business, fashion management studies, and related disciplines. It is also suitable for aspiring fashion entrepreneurs and professionals within the fashion industry seeking to learn about new business models, sustainability, and innovation in the fashion and textile industry.

Online resources for this textbook include slide decks instructor manuals and a test bank for each chapter as well as course guides for the entire book
