Hands Down, Speak Out Kassia Omohundro Wedekind,Christy Hermann Thompson,2023-10-10 Math coach Kassia Omohundro Wedekind and literacy coach Christy Hermann Thompson have spent years comparing notes on how to build effective classroom communities across the content areas How they wondered can we lay the groundwork for classroom conversations that are less teacher directed and more conducive to student to student dialogue Their answers start with Hands Down Conversations an innovative discourse structure in which students ideas and voices take the lead while teachers focus on listening and facilitating In addition to classrom stories and examples Christy and Kassia provide 28 micro lessons designed to help K 5 students develop and excercise their speaking and listening muscles Inside Hands Down Speak Out you ll learn how to Build talk communities that are accessible to everyone especially those whose voices are often traditionally left out of classroom discourse Analyze classroom conversations in order to plan next steps for developing the classroom talk community Plan and facilitate three types of conversations across literacy and math Christy and Kassia believe that the development of dialogue skills is worth the investment of time not only becuase it has the power to deepen our understanding of literacy and mathematics but also to deepen our understanding of ourselves our communities and the world      The Power of Teacher Teams Vivian Troen,Katherine Boles,2012 While most educators believe working in teams is valuable not all team efforts lead to instructional improvement Through richly detailed case studies The Power of Teacher Teams demonstrates how schools can transform their teams into more effective learning communities that foster teacher leadership The benefits of successful teacher teams include improved performance for both teachers and students meaningful professional development group adoption of a new curriculum shared insights into student work better classroom management support for new teachers new roles for teacher leaders and opportuniteis for mentor support School leaders will find guidelines

methods and concrete steps for building and sustaining effective teacher teams Also included is a DVD with video case studies and one CD with reproducibles The most important reason for building teacher teams is to enhance student learning through improved instruction and that story is at the heart of this book

Challenges of Conflicting School Reforms Mark Berends, JoAn Chun, Gina Schuyler Ikemoto, Sue Stockly, R. J. Briggs, 2002-03-29 A decade ago New American Schools NAS launched an ambitious effort for whole school reform to address the perceived lagging achievement of American students and the lackluster school reform attempts that have produced so few meaningful changes As a private nonprofit organization NAS set out to help schools and districts significantly raise the achievement of large numbers of students by offering whole school designs and design based assistance during the implementation process NAS is currently in the scale up phase of its effort and its designs are being widely diffused to schools across the nation During the 1997_1998 and 1998_1999 school years RAND assessed the effects of NAS designs on classroom practice and student achievement in a sample of schools in a high poverty district RAND found that high poverty schools often have fragmented and conflicting environments with difficult and changing political currents and entrenched unions Teachers in high poverty schools tend to face new accountability systems and fluctuating reform agendas These teachers generally lack sufficient time for implementing reform efforts often becoming demoralized and losing their enthusiasm for the difficult task of improving student performance under difficult conditions RAND concluded that high stakes tests may motivate schools to increase performance and to seek out new curricula and instructional strategies associated with comprehensive school reforms However those same tests may provide disincentives to adopt richer more in depth curricula that can succeed in improving the learning opportunities of all students particularly those in high poverty settings

Planning & Changing, 2011 Where Teachers Thrive Susan Moore Johnson, 2020-07-29 2020 PROSE Award Winner Education Theory Category 2019 Outstanding Academic Title Choice In Where Teachers Thrive Susan Moore Johnson outlines a powerful argument about the importance of the school as an organization in nurturing high quality teaching Based on case studies conducted in fourteen high poverty urban schools the book examines why some schools failed to make progress while others achieved remarkable results It explores the challenges that administrators and teachers faced and describes what worked what didn't work and why Johnson draws on vivid portraits of schools to highlight an array of school based systems and practices that support teachers professional growth and effectiveness These include a rich and interactive hiring process team based curriculum planning and assessment and informative feedback and ongoing professional learning Critical to all of these is the role of the principal as an essential agent in a school's success Although these elements may vary from school to school Johnson argues that together these systems provide a comprehensive mutually reinforcing set of well orchestrated strategies that can help schools deliver results that exceed the sum of teachers individual efforts Since 2000 policy makers and education officials have diligently sought to improve schools by improving the quality of individual teachers However even if those teachers are skilled and committed the schools where they work are all too often disjointed dysfunctional organizations that serve no one well Where Teachers Thrive explains clearly how educators within a school can join together to adopt systems of practice that ensure growth and success by all teachers and their students

Test Driven Linda Valli, 2008-07-24 I don't always know students by face I know them by data an elementary curriculum specialist explains ruefully in this broad examination of how No Child Left Behind impacts schools and shapes teaching practice Capturing the changes teachers are experiencing especially in the areas of mathematics and reading the authors compare and contrast three schools with diverse student populations examining how they differ in school norms and structures professional roles and responsibilities curriculum staff development and teaching and learning Including rich observational data and personal accounts from educators this inside look at school reform Analyzes the effects of policies from multiple levels examining relationships among initiatives at the federal state district and local school levels Focuses on the impact that high stakes testing policies have on reading and mathematics instruction in 4th and 5th grades Provides teacher and principal perspectives on factors that influence how practitioners make sense of mediate and construct school policy
