Generational Feminism New Materialist Introduction To A Generative Approach:

Generational Feminism Iris van der Tuin, 2014-11-12 Iris van der Tuin redirects the notion of generational logic in feminism away from its simplistic conception as conflict. Generational logic is said to problematize feminist theory and gender research as it follows a logic of divide and conquer between the old and the young and participates in patriarchal structures and phallogocentrism. Examining the continental philosophies of Bergson and Deleuze and French feminisms of sexual difference van der Tuin paves the way for a more complex notion of generationality. This new conception of the term views generational cohorts as static measurements that happen in the flow of being. Prioritizing this generative flow gives what is measured its proper place as an effect. Generational Feminism New Materialist Introduction to a Generative Approach experiments with a previously disregarded methodology's implications as an impetus for a new materialism and advances feminist politics for the twenty-first century.

A Feminist Companion to the Posthumanities Cecilia Åsberg, Rosi Braidotti, 2018-05-17 This companion is a cutting-edge primer to critical forms of the posthumanities and the feminist posthumanities aimed at students and researchers who want to catch up with the recent theoretical developments in various fields in the humanities such as new media studies, gender studies, cultural studies, science and technology studies, human animal studies, postcolonial critique, philosophy, and environmental humanities. It contains a collection of nineteen new and original short chapters introducing influential concepts, ideas, and approaches that have shaped and developed new materialism, inhuman theory, critical posthumanism, feminist materialism, and posthuman philosophy. A resource for students and teachers, this comprehensive volume brings together established international scholars and emerging theorists for timely and astute definitions of a moving target: posthuman humanities and feminist posthumanities. to Literature and Trauma Colin Davis, Hanna Meretoja, 2020-05-11 Literary trauma studies is a rapidly developing field which examines how literature deals with the personal and cultural aspects of trauma and engages with such historical and current phenomena as the Holocaust and other genocides, 9/11, climate catastrophe, or the still unsettled legacy of colonialism. The Routledge Companion to Literature and Trauma is a comprehensive guide to the history and theory of trauma studies, including key concepts, consideration of critical perspectives, and discussion of future developments. It also explores different genres and media such as poetry, life writing, graphic narratives, photography, and post-apocalyptic fiction, and analyses how literature engages with particular traumatic situations and events such as the Holocaust, the Occupation of France, the Rwandan genocide, Hurricane Katrina, and transgenerational nuclear trauma. Forty essays from top thinkers in the field demonstrate the range and vitality of trauma studies as it has been used to further the understanding of literature and other cultural forms across the world. Everyday Embodiment Julia Coffey, 2021-05-12 This book offers an innovative conceptual and methodological approach to one of the most significant health and wellbeing challenges for contemporary youth body image The social and cultural dimensions shaping body ideals and young people s body image concerns have not been adequately explored in the current landscape of social media and youth body cultures The author provides a sociological reframing of body image foregrounding the social and cultural dimensions which are critical in shaping young people s everyday bodily experiences Chapters explore the significance of gender and wellbeing norms and the ways that circumstances of hardship and inequality are significant in mediating body concerns In this the book complicates simplistic understandings of body image instead showing the complex processes by which body concerns are formed through the circumstances of embodied experience The book advocates for the non individual dimensions of body concerns the social and cultural conditions of young people s lives to be foregrounded in strategies aimed at addressing this complex youth wellbeing issue This text will be of interest to scholars in gender studies youth studies and feminist sociology

Plasticity in Motion Robert M. Foschia, 2022-09-23 Plasticity in Motion Sport Gender and Biopolitics argues that sport has a transformative power that when engaged with habitually can create bodies with the athletic ability to succeed at the incredible performances that captivate modern sports audiences Robert M Foschia draws heavily from the influential and extensive work of Catherine Malabou on plasticity the ability to shape and form and similarly argues that transformation is not always positive or infinite with the potential for accidents injuries and excommunications However sport as a discursive space often precludes any mention of these negative transformations asserting itself as pure potential and becoming often to the exclusion of the feminine What occurs if the feminine enters into this space Foschia intentionally integrates the feminine back into hypermasculine discussions of sport opening a new realm of possible transformations to the ways we play watch and think about sports Scholars of communication media studies gender studies rhetoric and sports will find this book particularly useful

Methods and Genealogies of New Materialisms Felicity Colman,Iris van der Tuin,2023-02-12 Combining a reflective genealogical approach along with productive avenues for future research this volume is an essential collection for the field of new and feminist materialisms The volume uses the new materialist movements in thought of changing intersecting practicing and transforming As methods these movements have engendered the metaphysical questions that different new and feminist materialist practices engage The volume follows these four movements as method question actions in four parts each of which is preceded by an introductory framing essay Rosi Braidotti s preface offers revelatory mappings to bring the book together and curated panels further offer co authored texts which practice the collective nature of academic thinking advocated by the European feminist new materialisms network

Feminism and Materialism (RLE Feminist Theory) Annette Kuhn,AnnMarie Wolpe,2013-05-20 These original essays are planned to provide a coherent basis for an understanding of women s social and historical situation This achieved by outlining the foundation of a systematic approach to an analysis of women s relationship to modes of production and reproduction within a materialist framework The essays each with a brief editorial introduction deal with issues and perspectives brought increasingly to the fore in recent years not only in the women s movement but in the social sciences generally The articles are wide ranging covering such issues as patriarchy paid and unpaid labour and the state The centrality of two of the major themes the family and the labour process suggests that an understanding of women s situation is necessarily based on an analysis of the structures of production and reproduction The authors aim in producing Feminism and Materialism is to confront systematically theoretical issues current in the developing area of women s studies while recognising that this must constitute a critique of existing theoretical frameworks The book will be of interest to teachers and students in the social sciences and in women s studies as well as to all those who wish to develop an understanding of what a materialist approach to feminism might be

Not My Mother's Sister Astrid Henry, 2004-09-07 Rebellious generations and the emergence of new feminisms

Metamorphoses Rosi Braidotti, 2002-02-15 The discussions about the ethical political and human implications of the postmodernist condition have been raging for longer than most of us care to remember They have been especially fierce within feminism After a brief flirtation with postmodern thinking in the 1980s mainstream feminist circles seem to have turned their back on the staple notions of poststructuralist philosophy Metamorphoses takes stock of the situation and attempts to reset priorities within the poststructuralist feminist agenda Cross referring in a creative way to Deleuze s and Irigaray s respective philosophies of difference the book addresses key notions such as embodiment immanence sexual difference nomadism and the materiality of the subject Metamorphoses also focuses on the implications of these theories for cultural criticism and a redefinition of politics It provides a vivid overview of contemporary culture with special emphasis on technology the monstrous imaginary and the recurrent obsession with the flesh in the age of techno bodies This highly original contribution to current debates is written for those who find changes and transformations challenging and necessary It will be of great interest to students and scholars of philosophy feminist theory gender studies sociology social theory and cultural studies
